Well, the hot place had a little competition Monday, judging from meteorological reports. Phoenix hung up a score of 118, which is some hot according to my feelings. In Santa Ana a much milder condition prevailed, but complaints were probably as numerous here as in Phoenix. We have such favorable weather most of the time we lose our sense of appreciation.

You know I'd wear one of those décolleté affairs if I could get a reinforced back.

The thumb brigade has taken possession of South Main street. The trek is toward the water front. And the brigade will arrive if you answer the call of the thumb. It happens every year, just like the swallows returning to Capistrano. School vacation is responsible for most of it. The lads want to take a dip in the ocean. They have everything but the transportation.

Maybe times are hard, but the number of tourist cars seen on the streets of Santa Ana would indicate that prosperity exists in some states for a lot of people. You can see from almost every state in the union, and some cars from places outside the union. You can't travel without money.

A folder handed to me is to be handed by me to Hunter Leach who is to hand it to the Breakfast club. That's what I would call a handy folder. It is from a Breakfast who is in Alaska, who intends to come home. Several other friends have returned from Alaska. There isn't any good reason why this one should not.

This thing has got to stop. Buying a cap every two years. It attracts too much attention. And then I don't like the comment. After all it's my cap and I have to wear it.

Those lovely flaming eucalyptus trees, dotted here and there but altogether too infrequently, are entrancing lovers of nature. They are to my sense of appreciation one of the most magnificent contributions to the charm of the Southland. If I had time to wait for one of these gems of nature I would plant one in my yard. If I owned a yard, but by the time it was ready to offer its bloom I wouldn't be here. So I will enjoy the ones some other thoughtful and appreciative souls planted. God nurtured, and some people enjoy.

An overflowing amount of generosity was encountered Tuesday. Those spots where rest and refreshment are served from early in the morning until early the next morning were temporarily out of commission on account of the flood control election. Under those circumstances offers of liberality were as valuable as the supreme court packing bill. It was a padlocked gesture.

And then there was more than half a dozen who bumped up against the front door of the cocktail rooms yesterday, who failed to gain admission, because Orange county was more interested in another kind of flood control. It was election day and some fellows who forgot to vote didn't forget they wanted a drink. The day was set apart for that very purpose so we could all get a drink. And it was the biggest drink ever given to Orange county. It cost better than 15 million, but it was worth it, while many another drink isn't. However, everybody to his own taste. After getting their nose bumped they did recall the reason for the closing and went and voted for the bonds. You (See SKINNY, Page 2)

COLLIE ADMITS MURDER; PEIPING BATTLE RAGES

PLEA CLEARS MYSTERY OF FIRE DEATH

Gilbert Francis Collie, 58-year-old confessed fiend-murderer, smiled today as he walked out of a superior courtroom—destined to spend the rest of his life behind the stone walls of a state prison for the first-degree murder of George Walker in Carbon canyon Nov. 19, 1931.

Collie smiled because he might have been hanged had he not suddenly changed his plea to guilty today and thus removed from court calendars three trials scheduled for next month which might have climaxed for him with a sentence to death.

He might have been released on parole in 1939. But he doesn't want to be released.

WANTS TO STAY IN
"I don't want to get out," he told his attorneys. "I don't know how to make a living."

And Superior Judge James L. Allen's words brought a grin to the face of the beetle-browed convict, once sentenced to die for another murder.

"It is the judgment of this court," said Judge Allen, "that you be confined to the state prison at Folsom for the term prescribed by law. You are now in the penitentiary, and you will serve your present term and then be taken to Folsom, where your sentence will run consecutively with the one you are now serving."

Collie was to have been tried here Aug. 18, 23 and 30 on his pleas of insanity at the present time, not guilty to the murder of Walker in 1931, and not guilty by reason of insanity at the time of the murder.

His plea of guilty today gave an admission that he slugged Walker over the head with a tree root, then dragged his unconscious body into an abandoned shack in Carbon canyon, setting fire to the shack and burning Walker to death.

UNDER PREVIOUS SENTENCE
He already had been sentenced (See COLLIE ADMITS, Page 2)

MATTEN HOP PLAN OKEHED

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Secretary Roper today indicated the bureau of air commerce would grant the application of Jimmie Matten for a permit to fly across the North Pole to Moscow.

He said, however, three government agencies would investigate what of value might result from the flight, before any permit is issued.

The secretary, discussing the matter at his press conference, said the bureau lacked authority to withhold permits when proposed flights met technical and other requirements. "This government lacks 'knowledge of polar conditions,'" he said, and would have the navy, army and the weather bureau study possible value in the proposed flight.

LOCAL LASSIES BLUE AS BOYS GRAB CAMP IN DATE MIXUP

Girl Scouts who had blithely made plans to spend a full 14 days at their annual encampment at Rokili this month were in a blue mood this morning.

A mistake in the date-book of the local Boy Scout office resulted in a mixup with both Van Nuys Boy Scouts and Santa Ana Girl

Freak Rainstorm Drenches KVOE For 5 Minutes

It may be summer everywhere else, but at Radio Station KVOE it was winter for a short time this morning.

From a single cloud, the station received a five-minute rainstorm.

Although the rest of the sky was clear, the cloud hovered over the station and discharged enough rain to dampen the ground. The freak storm occurred at 11:25 o'clock this morning.

CLAIM LABOR EXEMPT FROM NLRB RULING

Representatives of the citrus industry in Southern California struck a blow at agricultural labor organization today with a claim that the national labor relations act is not applicable to the industry's labor policies.

And organized citrus workers here stuck back at what they claim is an attempt on the part of employers to stem the rising tide of unionization of agricultural workers.

The citrus interests claimed that the labor relations act "would exempt all labor used in handling citrus fruit in packing house operations as well as in production and harvesting."

Immediate steps will be taken to obtain from the national labor relations board or from a court of competent jurisdiction a ruling exempting such labor, it was announced.

This morning a statement of labor policy, in which it is declared that membership in any union is (See CITRUS LABOR, Page 2)

L. A. TRUNK MAY SOLVE MURDER

NEW YORK. (AP)—The arrival of a trunk from Los Angeles was awaited today by police hoping to shed new light on the "clueless" murder of Irma Louise Pradier, 35-year-old French maid, whose bullet-pierced body was found on the Harlem River Speedway July 20.

Assistant Chief Inspector John A. Lyons said he expected the trunk to arrive later today. It had been intercepted by telegram after Miss Pradier sent it west on July 19, the day before she disappeared, saying she was going to Los Angeles "to marry a policeman."

Inspector Lyons at the same time denied a report that suspicion in the baffling case had fallen on a New York mounted policeman.

Information brought in by the 40 detectives working on the case disclosed the victim was friendly with a mounted patrolman, and that a patrolman had called for Miss Pradier at the Mt. Sinai hospital, where she was employed, and helped her take her trunk to the grand central station to be shipped to Los Angeles.

Girl, 9, Held On Rifle Charge

A 9-year-old Silver Acres girl, accused by neighbors of terrorizing them two weeks ago with a loaded rifle, was named in a juvenile court petition today.

W. W. Cadwallader signed the complaint after investigation by juvenile authorities, alleging the girl flourished the rifle in the presence of Mrs. Cadwallader and Mrs. L. A. Reed. The petition asks that the girl be made a ward of the juvenile court.

U. S. CITIZENS SEEK SAFETY AT EMBASSY

PEIPING. (By Wireless to Shanghai). (AP)—The majority of the 675 American civilians in Peiping took refuge in the United States embassy compound tonight at the close of the first day of major Chinese-Japanese hostilities in this area.

The 500 United States marines of the embassy guard hurriedly set up an emergency encampment for the civilian refugees.

Julius Filizar of Easton, Pa., a member of the marine guard, was wounded slightly when fired upon by Chinese soldiers, who apparently mistook him for a Japanese. The United States embassy said it did not consider the incident serious.

It apparently was confirmed tonight that the Chinese 29th army had scored heavily against the Japanese, who are attempting to expel them from Peiping and the nearby trouble area.

MAY EVACUATE AMERICAN CIVILIANS

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Secretary Hull said today that possible evacuation of American civilians from Peiping was being considered as an eventuality to be met in the present Sino-Japanese crisis.

He made the statement at his press conference shortly after it became known that President Roosevelt was keeping in constant touch with Far Eastern developments to determine, among other things, whether the neutrality act should be invoked.

CHINESE WARNED TO LEAVE PEIPING AREA

TIENSIN, China. (Thursday). (AP)—A Japanese air fleet roared over the country side about Peiping early this morning, dropping leaflets warning the Chinese populace to evacuate, after a full day of undeclared war in North China that extended from the former dragon capital to the sea.

UNDECLARED WAR SPREADS TO SEACOAST

Japan and China fought undeclared war on North China's land and seacoast today.

Evangelist to Face Sex Trial

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—An itinerant evangelist, the Rev. John D. James, accused of improper relations with his 15-year-old half sister, made certain his star defense witness would be in court when needed. He brought the witness, William Holmes of Pasadena, into court in his arms. Holmes is an invalid.

James is on trial, charged with an illicit affair with his half sister, Ruth E. James. Holmes testified he and James lived in the same house and his conduct was exemplary at all times.

Vet Hospital Addition Slated

SAN FERNANDO. (AP)—Dr. A. C. Farnsworth, medical director of the United States Veterans hospital here, said today approximately $300,000 will be spent soon for construction of a new 100-bed building and the purchase of new equipment.

The British cruiser Apollo landed marines here today to enforce order after many hours of rioting had taken at least 6 lives and seen 21 persons injured.

Police said there was one brief flareup after the marines landed, but that the city was "quiet now."

Earhart Gift Arrives

Five-year-old Ann Morrissey of Medford, Mass., admires six Oriental bracelets mailed to her June 25 from Bombay, India, by her aunt, Amelia Earhart, lost in the South Pacific with Navigator Fred Noonan while flying from New Guinea to Howland Island.

Ask 35-Hour Week In New Wage Law

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The house labor committee drastically revised the administration's wage-hour bill today to give the proposed labor standards board power to establish minimum wages as high as 70 cents an hour and a maximum work week as short as 35 hours.

The house committee acted while the senate debated the administration measure to permit such a board to fix wages no higher than 40 cents an hour and hours no lower than 40 a week.

The house changes were made, committee members said, after Chairman Norton (D., N. J.) voted to break a tie. The changes were prepared by Representative Wood (D., Mo.).

Across the Capitol Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.), said the bill under consideration there might place industry in a "strait-jacket."

He called for "a period of adjustment" to the Wagner labor relations law before placing the nation under a "new code."

"There is such a thing as economic indigestion," the Michigan phrase-maker said. "There is also such a thing as economic suicide."

BRITAIN LANDS MARINES

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados. (AP)—The British cruiser Apollo landed marines here today to enforce order after many hours of rioting had taken at least 6 lives and seen 21 persons injured.

Police said there was one brief flareup after the marines landed, but that the city was "quiet now."

FILM BEAUTY WHO WED HERE ACTS TO END KISSLESS MARRIAGE

A 17-year-old Nogales, Ariz., schoolgirl—Maria Castaneda—eloped to Santa Ana and married Samuel D. Garrison.

Immediately after the ceremony, she says, she changed her mind, and they never lived together.

This same girl came to court in Los Angeles today to have that marriage annulled, it was learned here today.

Her name is now Movita. She was one of the South Seas beauties in "Mutiny on the Bounty."

Release of Funds By Washington to Launch Big Project

Preliminary Details Prepared With Actual Construction Expected to Commence Soon

'YES'---21,249 'NO'---2386 ON BONDS

Voters of Orange county swarmed to the polls yesterday 23,643 strong to decide once and for all this county's flood control problem.

And out of the 23,643 who went to the polls, only 2386 expressed disapproval of the plan to accept government aid to the tune of $12,748,000 for construction of eight massive dams.

That left 21,249 who voted "yes" on the $2,500,000 water bond issue. This is a majority of nearly 10 to 1, an astounding total for a bond issue, especially a water bond proposal. Three times in the past have voters turned thumbs down on water bonds. But they couldn't resist the bargain this time.

The figures above are official, and were announced today by County Clerk Joe Backs following tabulation last night and this morning.

It was revealed that a little better than 41 per cent of the registered voters went to the polls yesterday. This is an extremely heavy vote for a bond issue, the usual bond vote being about 25 per cent. Backs added to his prestige as a forecaster by predicting a 40 per cent vote prior to the election.

A complete tabulation of the voting by precincts will be found on page 2 of The Journal today.

DEATH TAKES DR. DOBSON

Dr. George H. Dobson, eye, ear, and throat specialist in Santa Ana for the past 35 years, died suddenly this morning at the Santa Ana Valley hospital. He was 75 years of age.

Dr. Dobson was at the hospital under observation following the recurrence of an ailment for which he had been operated on a short time previously. He had been working in his office on Monday.

Well-known in local lodge affairs, Dr. Dobson served as exalted ruler of the Santa Ana Elks from 1910 to 1911. He was initiated into the lodge May 28, 1907, and was especially active during the time that the new building was opened.

Dr. Dobson was born in Counting, Iowa, on May 21, 1862. He was graduated from Grellet college before attending a medical college in Cleveland, Ohio. He practiced in Marshalltown, Iowa, for 15 years before moving to California.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Belle A. Dobson, 315 East Chestnut street; one daughter, Mrs. Reba Clark, Livermore, Calif.; and one brother, Elmer Dobson; and two sisters, Mrs. Martha Batty and Mrs. Amanda Martin, all of Iowa. Announcement of funeral services will be made later by Winbiger mortuary.

EMPLOYEES GET BONUS

ONTARIO. (AP)—The sum of $10,650 will be distributed next Friday among approximately 540 employees of the Ontario plant of the General Electric company in accordance with the company's profit-sharing plan.

District army engineers today awaited the "go" signal from Washington, D. C., before launching work on Orange county's $15,248,000 water program, approved yesterday by an overwhelming majority of voters throughout the county.

Captain Cruse, stationed at Los Angeles, told The Journal today that the army engineers are ready to start work as soon as funds are released by the chief army engineer at Washington, D. C.

Captain Cruse, who was in charge of the improvement program carried out at Newport Harbor, said that the next step in the program following approval of the bond issue by the voters, is to complete detailed studies of the big program before launching of actual construction work.

As soon as an allotment from national army engineering chiefs is received by the Los Angeles district engineers, work will be started to complete preliminary details. This will not take much time, it was indicated, and actual construction work is expected to begin soon.

A new era of prosperity will come to Orange county when construction work on the eight projects is started, civic leaders agreed today. The government will spend $12,748,000 in construction costs on the eight dams. This new (See FLOOD WORK, Page 2)

First returns on Orange county's water bond election were given the public last night by The Journal through announcements over KVOE. Hardly 30 minutes after the polls closed The Journal forecast the passage of the water bond issue through first returns, which were overwhelmingly in favor of the issue.

The Journal also completed its special election service through publication of an extra edition early this morning, carrying all details of the election and the results.

Two men was tryin' to get me in a big business proposition out here and they both admitted that they were thoroughly honest but I wanted to make sure so I sent for my Uncle Cy Cordell and I says, "Uncle Cy, you're the best angler in Crawford county and I want you to take these two men out fishin' and study their character."

Well sir, when Uncle Cy came home he says, "Bob, don't have nothin' to do with them two men!" He says, "You can't trust 'em—they're dishonest to the core!" He said, "They knew I was a good angler so they made a proposition that the first one that caught a fish had'ta treat the bunch." He said, "Do you know that all afternoon, they sat there with the cork bobbin' and they got bite after bite but they was too dishonest to pull their lines up."

I says, "Well, I suppose you lost a bet!" and he says, "No, but I would have if I'd had any bait on my hook!" (Copyright, 1937)

Shrinks

Joaquin Vienna of Santa Clara, stricken with the rare Strumpel-Marie's disease, is growing shorter in stature, and doctors haven't been able to help him. Mark indicated by arrow shows how he has shrunk from 5 feet 4 inches to 4 feet 10 inches since 1929. Drying of gristle cushions in the spine causes the shrinkage, although his back remains straight.

M'FADDEN LAUDS BOND ACTION

Taking the matter of putting over a $2,500,000 bond election in his stride, A. J. McFadden prepared today to leave for Fresno where he will conduct hearings on a bond issue. McFadden, chairman of the state prorate commission, acted as chairman of the "steering" committee in charge of the water bond election. Before he left on his trip north he made public a statement, expressing gratitude for all those who helped put over the program. McFadden saw a bright future looming ahead for Orange county, now that the water problem is out of the way. "The flood control issue in Orange county is finally settled," he said. "There never has been a project put up to the people in Orange county in which the interest as manifested by the big percentage of vote cast was so great and evenly distributed through all sections of our community. "The overwhelming majority by which the bonds carried will be a great satisfaction to all those who are interested in the progress of Orange county. With starting of this great project we can look forward to a new era of prosperity. "In the experience of all active workers throughout the campaign, there never has been so willing a disposition on the part of everyone to get in and work together. This also is a fine indicator of the future advancement of Orange county."

Plan 'Nest Egg' For CCC Workers

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Boys without dependents will have a $130 "nest egg" when they leave the Civilian Conservation Corps, under a new policy effective Aug. 1.

Two H. B. Papers Seek Legality

Two Huntington Beach newspapers had applied to superior court today for status as newspapers of general circulation. Petitions were filed on behalf of the Huntington Beach News by James Shaw Farquhar, sr., and for the Huntington Beach Times by E. M. Wade. The News, Farquhar alleges, has been published continuously since 1974, and the Times was established Oct. 1, 1935.

Westminster Hen Lays Huge Egg

When bigger eggs are laid, Fred French of New Westminster says his hens will lay them. French, who lives at 139 Sixteenth street, New Westminster, brought to the chamber of commerce today a huge double egg laid by a one-year-old Rhode Island Red hen. The outer egg measured nine inches in circumference.

FLOOD WORK TO AID COUNTY

money will circulate throughout the county, giving business new impetus. Property values will be enhanced, because of the security of the program both in flood control and in water conservation, it was pointed out. The eight dams will afford complete flood protection for Orange county. They will be constructed over a three-year period. Conservation of an average of 40,000 acre feet of water annually also will be effected by the program. Assurance of this addition to the county's water supply will make conditions here more prosperous.

The construction work on the great water program will result in more than 1000 Orange county men getting jobs at prevailing wages. This will strengthen the labor market, making jobs now held better and more secure than ever before.

BONDS COUNTY'S SHARE

The $2,500,000 bond issue voted by the people of Orange county yesterday will be used by the board of supervisors to purchase rights-of-way, make guarantees against flood damage, and for incidental expenses. The entire cost of construction of the dams will be borne by the federal government. The money for construction will be spent by the army engineers.

The tremendous majority vote piled up by electors of Orange county will show the army engineers that residents of this county want the water program, and appreciate the offer of the government to build the dams, leaders said.

GERMANS SEEK MEXICO HELIUM

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Representative O'Connell (D., R. I.) told the house naval committee today he had "authoritative" information Germany was planning to establish a colony in Mexico to develop helium and a mineral resources.

He made this statement during a hearing on proposed construction of an airship to replace the Los Angeles at which Rear Admiral Arthur B. Cook, chief of naval aeronautics, recommended building a new airship as an experimental aircraft carrier. O'Connell, author of a bill to finance construction of two airships for transatlantic service at a cost of $12,000,000, said an American citizen had learned of the existence of helium in Mexico and had tried to work out an agreement with the Mexican government for production of the gas for commercial aviation.

Norwalk Woman Who Kissed Hitler Now Milks Cows

NORWALK, (AP)—Mrs. Carla De Vries, who caused an international sensation by kissing Adolf Hitler at the 1936 Olympic games, had a new distinction today. With relatives and friends, she was helping her husband, George De Vries, milk 1000 cows at his strike-bound dairy.

Seek N. R. L. B. Citrus Ruling

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—The national labor relations act, in the opinion of a committee representing the Southern California citrus industry, is not applicable to the industry's labor policies. The labor relations act "would exempt all labor used in handling citrus fruit in packing house operations as well as in production and harvesting," the committee said in a statement last night. "Immediate steps will be taken to obtain from the national labor relations board or from a court of competent jurisdiction a ruling exempting such labor," the statement added.

McAdoo Asks Aid For Exposition

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senator William Gibbs McAdoo has asked enactment of legislation for federal participation in the continuing international exposition, Pacific Mercade, which will start in Los Angeles in 1940. One resolution asked authority for a federal appropriation of $2,000,000 and creation of a commission composed of the secretaries of interior, agriculture, commerce and labor, and three members each of the house and senate. Another resolution would authorize the President to invite foreign nations to participate in the exposition.

2 from U. S. Die in Dutch Air Crash

AMSTERDAM, (AP)—Two Americans were reported killed today with 12 other persons when a Dutch commercial airliner crashed at Hal, Belgium. Officials of the line said the Americans were a Mr. Whitehouse and Mr. Calpon. Neither their full names nor their addresses were immediately available. The transport, a Douglas, crashed in flames after an explosion in mid-air. Its 10 passengers and four crew members, including a stewardess, were killed instantly.

to die for the murder of Dale Slater in San Bernardino county, been found insane, escaped from Mendocino state hospital, sent to San Quentin, and had his death sentence commuted by the late Governor Rolf to life imprisonment without possibility of parole. But there was a possibility Collie might be paroled. He will be eligible Jan. 1, 1939, at which time the state board of prison terms and paroles will fix his term. This Collie expects to be 20 years.

He is 58 years old now. In 20 years from 1939 he will be 79. His sentence for first degree murder here will run from five years to life.

Today's court session was brief. Collie, having changed his mind as to his plea, was brought quietly up to the courtroom by Sheriff Logan Jackson and his chief criminal deputy, Merle Dean.

Jackson testified to a conversation with Collie after discovery of the murder scene through a map drawn by the prisoner. Attorney W. F. Menton read into the record part of the transcript from last month's preliminary hearing in Santa Ana justice court. It was testimony of W. C. Allen, captain of the Los Angeles police at the time of the murder, that he picked up Collie for questioning into the disappearance of Dale Slater, who later was found to be murdered. Collie admitted, Allen said, that he killed Walker in a fight over some spilled liquor.

Collie will be delivered back to San Quentin by Sheriff Jackson, who returned him here for trial last month because of the possibility the slayer might be paroled on the Slater murder charge.

CITRUS LABOR PLAN FOUGHT

not necessary to work in the industry, was proclaimed for Southern California's citrus industry. The statement was to be posted in every packing house in the Southland.

FREE BARGAINING

The citrus industry's statement said that the employer and employee shall be free to bargain collectively or individually, regardless of whether the workers belong to any union. Strong condemnation was voiced of any policy of intimidation or coercion on the part of anyone in the industry.

And following issuance of this statement, Alfred Boelen, district organizer for the CIO citrus union, issued a statement which said the statement from the citrus employers is an attempt to confuse the workers.

UNION OBJECTS

"This bulletin," he said, "that is placed in the packing house is a statement made to appear as a statement of facts, when as a matter of fact, it is only a statement of opinion, an attempt by the group of employers to confuse the workers and to stop the organizational progress being made by the drive to organize citrus workers."

The social security act has resulted in issuance of cards to every worker, which excludes them as strictly agricultural workers. We recognize the full right of the worker to join or not to join a labor organization, and we depend entirely upon our ability to convince them with information and a correct organizational program."

Boelen is launching his campaign to organize citrus workers of the county with a mass meeting at 8 o'clock tonight. This meeting will be held in the K. of P. hall at Anaheim.

tion from the embattled environs of Peiping, once the dragon capital, to Tangku on the sea. Chinese reports of battle victory, almost invariably denied by the Japanese, rolled in from dawn to dark. Japanese air bombs and guns seared the troops of Nanking and their Peiping area strongholds, with reported heavy casualties.

President Roosevelt watched developments closely from Washington. The question of application of America's neutrality act was under consideration.

COUNTY HALTS TRANSIENT AID

BAKERSFIELD, (AP)—Kern county supervisors unanimously adopted a resolution today that will be sent to governors of every state in the nation and the federal government giving notice that this county henceforth will be responsible only for its own indigents.

Caring for indigents from other states is proving so costly that taxes will become confiscatory, the supervisors said.

PROBE FISHERIES

SAN PEDRO, (AP)—John Mirkovich, secretary of the Fishermen's Cooperative association, said today he was going to investigate Japanese tuna fishing activities on the Pacific Coast will be asked at a meeting of Pacific Coast fishermen in San Francisco tomorrow. "We will ask for a committee to investigate the true status of Japanese operations in Mexican, Panamanian and Alaskan waters," he said.

New York police said Stanley A. Martin (above) confessed strangling Mrs. Florence Jackson "upon request." Police quoted Martin as saying the slaying climaxed an illicit love affair.

Don't crab about the weather. Wait until next January. Maybe you'll have something to "holer" about.

Met a business man today who had a peeve. His bank balance failed to include a check issued some three weeks ago. He was a business man, so he wanted his checks cashed and returned promptly so the record would be up-to-date. His peeve was against those procrastinating individuals who get a check and hold it indefinitely. Unless you examine your returned cancellations carefully you are likely to get an incorrect opinion as to your bank balance, and sometimes that is responsible for an overdrawn account, and when that happens your face gets red.

Some people have an obtuse sense of cooperation. They ask for it, get it, and then fold up like an accordion when the opportunity to reciprocate appears. They disappear like a turtle's head. They seek and receive acres of publicity, and then compensate with an eighth-of-an-inch measurement. Oh, well, we've always had 'em, probably always will. So giddyap up, Napoleon, let's see what the next horse looks like.

Senate Orders Six New Ships

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senate action has sent to the White House a bill authorizing construction of six naval auxiliary vessels at a maximum cost of $50,000,000.

The senate agreed to house amendments to the bill, which provides for a new seaplane tender, destroyer tender, mine sweeper, submarine tender, fleet tug and oil supply ship. The chief house amendment specified that not less than 50 per cent of the ships should be built in government navy yards, and authorized a 6 per cent preference for bids received from Pacific coast builders.

Motorist Dies Eluding Police

SAN JOSE, (AP)—A race with a state highway patrolman ended in death on the Monterey highway south of here last night for one of two motorists when their car skidded after crossing a bridge and rolled over several times. The dead man was Jack B. Alter of Los Angeles. His companion, L. M. Hyatt, jr., also of Los Angeles, escaped with minor injuries and was taken into custody by Highway Patrolman J. S. Gibson. The officer reported they attained a speed of 90 miles an hour at times in the 14 or 15 mile chase.

CANNON DUEL AT MADRID

MADRID, (AP)—Fagged by seven days of furious struggle insurgent and government armies today held their combat to artillery duels.

Activity in the Brunete and Villanueva de la Canada sectors of the western front was confined to shelling by both sides while each army dug itself in further for a determination of "the battle for Madrid."

In the respite from hand to hand struggle precipitated by General Jose Maja's bold offensive into insurgent rear guard positions about 15 miles west of the capital, insurgents and government troops alike buried their dead.

The government asserted its salient was still intact and heavily reinforced.

Seven government bombing planes made a double attack on the insurgent airbase at Salamanca, Franco's general headquarters.

This and other attack on a Franco airbase at Avila brought destruction of several insurgent planes in the hangars. It was said. The defense ministry announced that one of the insurgents' tri-motored bombers was shot down in flames near Madrid.

SEEKS DOGS IN WILL CONTEST

Among other things, Mrs. Ruth Elvira Whiting, widow of the wealthy Frank R. Whiting of Seal Beach, would like to know what happened to three pedigreed Pekinese dogs.

Mrs. Whiting, who is suing William J. Clark, executor of her late husband's estate, for some $1600 assertedly due in alimony from Mr. Whiting, asked in a petition filed in superior court today that Clark be cited to show cause why certain effects were not included in the inventory.

Included in the effects she believes Clark concealed are a range, electric refrigerator, furniture, jewelry and the three dogs.

Mr. Whiting died last year after his wife obtained a divorce, and left her out of his will, saying he believed she married him for his money. His estate was worth approximately $50,000, most of it in a trust created before his death, principally stock in the Home Ice company.

Germans Fight Grain Shortage

BERLIN, (AP)—Germany fought a short grain harvest today with an order forbidding the use of wheat or rye for anything but bread.

The third Reich, it was explained, faces a grain harvest which may be from 10 to 15 per cent below average.

Henceforth each farmer who produces bread grains must deliver his whole harvest to the government marketing organization, keeping back only enough to furnish bread for his own family. Sugar beets are expected to replace rye as a fodder substitute.

...please pass the potatoes

Baked and served with fresh butter

...A GRAND FOOD!

Science has discovered that potatoes provide extra Vitamin C, readily available calcium and phosphorus, and a high content of iron and Vitamin B—all important elements to good health.

Interesting information, but not nearly so impressive as a great, big baked potato—nice and mealy—its russet jacket bursting—steaming hot—with a couple of pats of fresh butter, some salt and pepper. . . that's really something to eat. Yet, this is only one of a hundred ways of preparing and serving this marvelous food.

Nowhere are such excellent potatoes grown as in the higher altitudes, the mountain valleys, the great plains of the West, and the Pacific Coast slopes. All of these regions are served by the Union Pacific Railroad.

Efficient, rapid railroad service—specialized cars for safe shipment—brings potatoes to your table from this area every month of the year. Among the nation's railroads Union Pacific is in the front rank as a transporter of potatoes. Last year Union Pacific moved 41,422 cars of the world's staple vegetable—the nutritious, economical potato.

ARRESTS MARK DAIRY STRIKE AT NORWALK

Milker Charged With Assault and Battery

NORWALK. (AP)—One was held on assault and battery charges today and two others were cited for traffic violations in connection with the milk strike at the Vitamin A dairy here.

Wilbur Shrode, 24-year-old milker, was taken to the Whittier jail by sheriff's deputies after, they said, he had resisted arrest. Floyd V. Dahlstrom, 17, of Artesia and Walter Hazelbaker, 19, Norwalk, were given traffic citations on a charge they drove past the dairy with strikers on the running boards of their automobiles. George De Vries, wealthy dairy operator, declared today he would sell his 1000 cows and "go fishing before I'll join the Committee for Industrial Organization."

The De Vries dairy has been picketed for four days in an unionization drive. The owner's wife, Mrs. Carla De Vries, is assisting her husband in milking the cows.

Police Court Business Slumps

A dull day in police court yesterday saw only four traffic violators appear to pay a total of $26 in fines.

Three were fined for speeding. Lucius W. Conkey, 432 Jasmine street, Laguna Beach, $8; Ted H. Thomsen, 216 South Kenwood, Glendale, $8; and Benjamin E. Needham, 831 East Sierra avenue, Glendale, $8.

James Dunton, 820 North Pine street, Anaheim, paid $2 for ignoring a boulevard stop sign.

DROP SPECIAL SESSION PLAN

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A special session of the legislature will not be necessary, Gov. Frank Merriam has decided.

"Because the matters that might have justified action have been cleared up," he explained.

The governor spoke of the possibility of a special session 10 days ago to consider two things—capital punishment angles and the problem of state-owned oil lands in the petroleum section.

Governor Merriam said he since has been informed that no legal loopholes exist in connection with the substitution of the lethal chamber for hanging in the state, and the state's share of oil properties are not in jeopardy.

Mrs. Lan Franco Dies at Home

Descendant of one of the oldest of California's Spanish families, Mrs. Louise Lan Franco, 74, died yesterday afternoon at her home on Yorba street, near El Modena.

Born in 1863 near Costa Mesa, Mrs. Lan Franco was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Acuna, who were also natives of Southern California. Through marriage she was connected with the Lan Franco family, also prominent in the history of Orange county.

Mrs. Lan Franco is survived by five sons, Fred and Gus Lan Franco of El Modena, Ray and Alfred Lan Franco of Orange, and Dan Lan Franco of Tustin; five daughters, Mrs. Albertina Padias of Irvine, Mrs. Julia Rios and Mrs. Myrtle Hewes of Orange, Mrs. Claudina Vincent of Corona, and Mrs. Louise Elam of El Modena; 26 grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 9 a. m. at the Holy Family Catholic church in Orange, with Father E. J. Riordan officiating. Burial will be in the Channon funeral home. Interment will be in the Orange Catholic cemetery.

3 Soloists in Park Concert

Three solo performers will present selections on the NYA band and orchestra, program to be played in Birch park tomorrow night beginning promptly at 7:45 p. m.

T. Dunstan Collins, conductor of the band, will also sing a baritone solo, "Meadow Lark Polka," by Banks. An accordion duet, "Cribbin' Waltz," will be played by Miss Joan McClary and Miss Margie Bowman.

Orchestra selections to be played are "The Wanderer" by Sousa, "Daughter of Love" by Bennett, and "The Glow Worm" by Luckie. The band will play two groups of numbers including "Second Regt. P. M." by Hall, "American Patrol" by Meacham, "A Passing Fancy" by Iswell, "Invercargill" by Lithgow, and the "Star Spangled Banner."

Placentia Man Faces Sex Trial

Another crimes against children case will get under way in superior court Friday when Walt Terrill, of Placentia, appears to answer to charges of contributing to the delinquency of minor children.

He was held to answer to Judge Halsey I. Spence in Fullerton this morning.

Terrill is charged with indecent exposure in the presence of two 10-year-old girls.

Hospital Patients Hear WPA Band

Bringing cheer to the patients of the tubercular ward of the Orange county hospital, the WPA band under the direction of Edward Klein, conductor of the federal music project unit, gave a concert there yesterday afternoon. A "Program of Nationalities"—designed to please all tastes—included Irish, Russian, Slovakian, Mexican, Hawaiian and negro folk melodies.

S. F. HOTELS OPEN AFTER 88 DAY STRIKE

Shutdown Estimated to Have Cost $7 Million

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Operators of 19 major hotels wiped away the stains of an 88-day strike in preparation for reopening today after a shutdown estimated to have cost $6,500,000 in lost revenue and over $500,000 in forfeited wages.

Final obstacles to opening the hostilities, rendezvous for society and thousands of visitors, were cleared last night when the operators reached agreements with non-striking union employees, whose negotiations were suspended when six other unions walked out May 1.

The strikers, comprising unions representing five culinary crafts and the clerks and office workers, voted heavily Monday night in favor of accepting a compromise peace proposal, providing for arbitration of demands for higher wages and a 40-hour week.

Representatives of the hotel operators, the 3200 strikers, and the non-striking engineers and laundry workers called a meeting for 10 a. m. to formally sign the new contracts, after which the hostilities will reopen.

Sixteen buildings have been closed to all but a few permanent guests since May 1, and three others have been shut a shorter period.

Dimly lighted lobbies, barricaded doors, windows streaked with dirt, neglected shrubs and lawns, and constant picket lines have been daily reminders of the strike to San Franciscans passing the big, white buildings.

Managers said they expected to have the buildings open shortly after noon and that by the end of the week, all departments would be operating at full capacity.

Former S. A. Girl Killed in East

Tragic news of the death of Mrs. Warren Morgan Platt, former Santa Ana girl, in Ridgewood, N. J., was received late yesterday by members of her immediate family here. She was formerly Anne Carrie Hadden.

According to details received by her father, William H. Haddon, 420 South Ridge street, the youthful mother met her death when she fell from a car in front of her home in Ridgewood, late Sunday evening. She died in a hospital there on Monday morning.

Born February 5, 1907, Mrs. Platt was born in Santa Ana with her father in 1923. She lived here for eight years, during which time she was graduated from Santa Ana High school in 1925. While here, she also attended the Episcopal Church of the Messiah.

Survived by her father, Mrs. Platt is survived by her mother, Mrs. Gladys E. Haddon of Ridgewood, N. J.; her husband, Warren M. Platt; and two brothers, George T. Haddon and Edward Johnston Haddon, both now residing in the Orient.

Funeral services were held this morning in Ridgewood. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Wife Denies Mate Shared in Theft

Clarence and Marion Rurup, 416 North Flower street, charged with stealing a watch, bottle and matches from Joe Young, a Chinese, today were held to answer in superior court after a preliminary hearing in justice of the peace court.

Mrs. Rurup, of the witness stand, admitted taking the property from Young's house but denied that her husband was implicated in the alleged theft. Both were placed under $2500 bond.

Corn Deal Lands Agent in Court

Charged with acting as an agricultural commission agent without a state license, Jack Rudy, 224½ East Fifty-third street, Los Angeles, today was held to answer in superior court after a preliminary hearing in Fullerton justice court.

The complaint against Rudy alleges that he was purchasing corn from growers, representing himself as a licensed agent.

Janitor Admits Stealing Coats

John Houze, negro janitor arrested in the act of selling $125 worth of coats stolen from a Santa Ana department store where he worked, today entered a plea of guilty to the grand theft charge in justice of the peace court. His sentence will be pronounced in superior court Friday.

IRISH GREET KING WITH BOMBS, GUNS

Explosion and Fires Upset Belfast Area

BELFAST, Northern Ireland. (AP)—Terrorists shattered the peace of Belfast and Ulster's free state border with bombs, arson and gunfire today in hostile greeting to King George VI and Queen Elizabeth.

Police blamed the outbreak on Irish Republicans.

While the king and queen, on a coronation visit, were driving to the Belfast city hall through crowded streets, a gas main explosion a half mile away boomed through a wide area of Belfast.

After the British sovereigns were received at the city hall, attended a state luncheon and a garden party, and saw a parade of youth organizations, investigators decided the gas explosion probably was accidental.

However, the Royal Ulster constabulary at Belfast said they were investigating the possibility that the blast might have been caused by a land mine.

Other explosions and disorders, including the burning of 28 customs houses between Carlisle and Dundoran, were attributed to a "big plot," rumors of which had reached the ears of authorities last week.

Crowds lining the streets cheered the king and queen on their drive through the city. The throngs started gathering last night and hundreds ate picnic breakfasts in the streets to keep their places.

At the city hall the king replied to an address of welcome by saying: "We cannot thank you enough for the kindness and warmth of the welcome you have given us. We are delighted to find ourselves among you once again to renew our increasing prosperity and happiness."

4 Evangelists Feature Program

In the closing week of the revival campaign now being conducted by "Cyclone" Jackson at the Four Square church, four more evangelistic sermons will be presented before the party leaves Sunday night.

Tonight's sermon will be "The Seven Vials." Other subjects announced are "The Mark of the Beast" for Thursday night, "The Battle of Armageddon" on Saturday night, and a final evangelistic program on Sunday.

Friday night the regular evening service will be omitted since a large number of the local members will drive to Los Angeles to attend the rally at the Angelus Temple.

30-DAY SENTENCE

Joseph Powell, 726 East Ninety-sixth street, Los Angeles, began a 30-day jail sentence today after pleading guilty to drunken driving in Seal Beach justice court.

Shark Attacks Kayak as Round Trip to Avalon Ends

FULLERTON.—Relating a thrilling tale of attack by a large shark, Willard Edwards of Fullerton completed a round trip to Avalon from the mainland in a tiny kayak as he paddled into Newport Bay Monday.

Edwards astounded Avalon residents Saturday when he arrived, as the rough trip from the mainland was considered impossible in a kayak. Completion of the round trip marks a new record for local kayak paddlers, although Edwards said there was nothing unusual in the feat.

"I just wanted to spend the week-end at Catalina," he said. The shark incident occurred when Edwards was making the trip to Avalon from Cabrillo Beach, he said. His light paddle was painted red on the tips. A 10-foot bonita shark, attracted by the brilliant color, attacked the paddle, biting a hole through the thin wood. Then the big fish bumped the stern of the frail boat with his nose and circled around for some time before Edwards was able to continue.

The local youth, who first gained fame when he made a rough trip down the Santa Ana river to the ocean during last winter's floods, traveled mostly by compass, he said. He was fully clothed on the trip and carried oranges and water in his kayak. The return trip consumed nine hours. He steered a course for Huntington Beach, but the surf was too rough for landing there and he continued down the coast to Newport before coming ashore.

Doll Booth Draws Great Interest for Art Festival

LAGUNA BEACH.—Perhaps the most interesting collection yet entered for display in the Ebull club's doll booth at the Festival of Arts is Mrs. F. C. Drake's "Pasadena Playhouse" series, according to Virginia Cunningham, committee head in charge of the doll show.

Charles Dickens' famous "Crickets on the Heath" characters have been "dollified" by Mrs. Drake; the heads are modeled after the technique of puppet-making, and the bodies are clothed in materials used in Pasadena Playhouse costumes.

Mrs. Drake was official doll-maker for the Montecello, Va., museum, and perhaps the most common-proving doll made while at Thomas Jefferson's home was that of Betsy Ross. A Lilliputian George Washington, fashioned after the noted Ferris portrait, was also featured in her Montecello exhibit.

A doll portrait of Irving Pichel, the lead in the Pasadena production of "MacBeth" will be exhibited among the other dolls of Mrs. Drake's collection. Gilmore Brown's role of the barnstormer in "A Night Off" is another of Mrs. Drake's masterpieces.

"Alice in Wonderland" creatures, which were shown recently at the Columbia University 100th anniversary celebration of the author Lewis Carroll, will be displayed. Alice Hargrave, original "Alice" of Carroll's stories, now 80 years old, viewed Mrs. Drake's dolls—Duchess, Mad Hatter, Baby and Cook.

Mrs. Lloyd L. Loveland has entered a group of "Lagunatic" dolls, dressed in smocks and bonnets. Virginia Cunningham and Mrs. Richard Vail have contributed the "Dutch Twins," English-made dolls purchased on board the Empress of Canada.

An oriental entry of Jean DeAnna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manfred DeAnna, consists of four Japanese character dolls. Since all adult or professional entries are ineligible to enter the official Ebull club contest, the committee would like more children (under 16) to contribute.

Mrs. Thomas Bird, Mrs. Fred Leach and Mrs. Ardath Wightman will judge all entries Friday afternoon. Prizes will be awarded to the contributors of the oldest, largest, smallest and unique entries. All entries must be in the festival doll booth, on the Women's club grounds, not later than noon Friday.

Bathers Can Read But Not Sit on N. Y. Newspapers

NEW YORK. (AP)—You can take a newspaper to Coney Island beach and read it to your heart's content, but you can't sit on it.

Newspaper sitting, William F. Carey, commissioner of sanitation, has ruled, is against the law, adding that inspectors had not been instructed to snatch newspapers from readers Sunday in their anti-litter drive.

"They can take all the papers they want to the beaches, if they put them in the litter baskets afterwards," Carey said. "But sitting on newspapers will not be permitted."

Persons at Coney Island Sunday complained inspectors had walked through the throng of bathers and sun addicts, snatching papers, but Carey said he did not believe anyone had been deprived of a paper he was reading.

'No Easy Living' In California, Migrants Warned

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Jonathan Garst, regional director of the resettlement, administration warned destitute farm families of other states today to "look carefully before they leap at the lure held out in some of the fanciful statements in circulation about easy living in California."

Garst said there is no work relief, direct relief or free food available through the resettlement administration. "Distorted reports, picturing California as a paradise for the dispossessed of other areas are being circulated," Garst said.

RETURN TO MESA

Mrs. Maude Young left Saturday evening for Portland, Ore., to visit her sister and a nephew who is critically ill.

Mrs. P. H. Ross, her son, Paul Harley, and Miss Theresa Ross returned home Sunday after a three-weeks' visit with her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. David Patterson of Alameda.

Shirley and Joan Thursby of Arlington are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Logsdon, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver and family of Los Angeles spent the week-end with Mrs. Jessie N. Boughner. On Sunday they motored to Escondido to visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Pickering returned home Sunday from a two months' motor trip to Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. Returning home by way of Yellowstone park they met Mr. and Mrs. George Kellogg who are also on a motor vacation.

U. S. Cruiser Still Aground

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Artificial ocean waves—in addition to the usual salvage operations—have failed to float the light cruiser Omaha, ashore near Castle Island Light in the Bahamas.

The navy department said the destroyer Mahan had cruised back and forth alongside the stranded warship in vain salvaging operations as an aid to the salvage vessels, tugs and beach gear in use. The Omaha went ashore at the entrance to Crooked Island passage in the Bahamas eight days ago in a manner unexplained so far by navy officials. She was en route from Central American waters to the Charleston Navy Yard for overhaul.

ot Dedicate New Fullerton Church

FULLERTON.—The Federal Music Project choral unit will present a concert at the Four Square Tabernacle in Fullerton on the night of Aug. 5. A program of sacred music, negro spirituals and song classics will be performed by the 25 chorus members, under the direction of Dudley Page Harper. The concert is being given as a pre-dedication ceremony of the new church edifice at Lawrence and Amerige streets.

AUXILIARY AT MESA MEETS

COSTA MESA.—The first Legion auxiliary meeting under the new president, Mary Payne, opened with a pot-luck dinner served in the Legion hall Monday night.

Following the meeting, the retiring president, Grace Cox, presented the gavel to Mrs. Payne and in return received from Anna Craner, on behalf of the unit, the gold past-president's ring.

Announcement was made by Robert Fisher, that the Legion's sale of fireworks had grossed more than $400, a net profit of $120 being shown. A check for 25 per cent of this amount was presented to the auxiliary for their assistance during the sale. Guests were Robert Fisher and

MESA SCOUT GROUP TO MEET

COSTA MESA.—The third quarterly meeting of the Community Scout Council will be held Friday evening in the social hall of Community church, it was announced today by Goss Grable, secretary.

The meeting, which will open with a pot-luck dinner, will include a court of honor, where Boy Scouts will be awarded merit badges earned during the past three months. A special program also will be presented.

The meeting is open to all parents of school-age boys and to anyone else interested in the furtherance of Boy Scouting.

Nell Murbarger, prospective members including Mrs. A. S. Woods, Mrs. Otto Tryon and Mrs. Shelby Kanagy.

Lola Larkin, lovely English star in a Broadway revue, has many admirers. The most ardent is Winfield Balcom, son of Senator Balcom. He wants to marry her, but has to admit that his parents do not approve of her. Furthermore, if he marries without their consent, he will lose a fortune bequeathed to him by an uncle. They quarrel when she refuses to accept him without his parents' approval, and he angrily accuses her of wanting only the money. The next morning, when he phones, she forgives him and assures him she loves him, but has scarcely hung up when she receives a radiogram signed "Standish." It reads, "Beloved:—Landing today. Can't wait to see you—but it must be in secret."

AN HOUR later, Norman J. Standish and his wife were in a taxi, headed for the St. Boritz Hotel. They had come from Sydney, Australia, where they had recently been married. Mrs. Standish was a New York woman, and Standish an Englishman. They were making a stop-over in New York on their way to London Standish's home.

Mrs. Standish, under thirty, an exceedingly attractive blonde, and extremely wealthy, had been Miss Cora Deering. She had been on a round-the-world tour when, in Sydney, she had met Norman Standish, who was there to look after some of his mining interests. Theirs had been a whirlwind romance. The tall, handsome, dignified

Grogan saw Lola rush into the stranger's arms.

Imogene, as she picked up the breakfast tray, managed to glance at the radiogram that lay unfolded on the bedside table. She was greatly puzzled over the signature, "Standish," and over the fact that he had addressed Lola as "Beloved."

And only a little while ago, she had heard Lola tell Winfield Balcom, over the telephone, that she loved him! "It's none of my business," Imogene thought, "but see how am curious!"

Lola got her number and learned ned Englishman had literally swept Cora Deering off her feet. Her three months of married life had proved to be three months of supreme happiness.

"There were many business affairs that she must settle here in New York, and then, she and her husband would sail for England to make their home."

"One thing I must do right away, Norman," she said, when they were settled in a suite at the hotel, "is to see my dearest friend Martha Carter."

"By all means, my dear—see all of your friends. Let me help you to entertain them."

"Show him in at once!" Grogan went back, escorted Standish to the door, and tapped again. The door flew open, and Grogan saw Lola rush into her visitor's arms.

"It has been so long, old dear!" she cried, as Standish leaned down and kissed her.

"I say, darling, but it's good to see you again!" said Standish. Then, Lola closed the door. Speed Grogan stared at it and scratched his head.

MESA C. OF C. MEETING SET

COSTA MESA.—All arrangements have been completed for the annual chamber of commerce dinner, to be held tonight in the Woman's clubhouse, President Morris Crawley announced.

Following dinner, presentation of the garden and lawn contest awards will be made, gold and bronze trophies having been provided for each division, in addition to more than 30 merchandise prizes.

Ross Crane, assistant Orange county farm advisor, has been secured as the speaker of the evening, and will talk on the subject of "Good Lawns and Gardens as Assets to the Community."

Contestants and chamber members have been notified of the meeting date and, from advance reservations, a large attendance is being expected.

PUPILS HEARD IN RECITAL

WESTMINSTER.—Mary Lou Hare presented her piano pupils in recital before a large audience Tuesday evening in the social hall of the Presbyterian church.

Of special interest were many two-piano numbers featuring a group of players which included Joyce Campbell, Barbara Jones, Ardith Sheldon, Frances Hurd, Elanias Hylton, Kikuko Yamamoto, Wayne Huffman, Marguerite Fogler, Pauline Verela, Ruth and Vernon Rez. Other pupils heard on the program were Billy Johnson, Jimmie Stinson, Jane Cook, Dewey Stinson, Jean Johnson, Robert Broady, and Carolyn Broady.

County People Wed Secretly

COSTA MESA.—In a secret marriage performed last week, Mrs. Lena Heaton, 1939 Anaheim avenue, became the bride of A. L. Winney, Brookhurst avenue, Anaheim, it was learned today. The couple will live in the bridegroom's home in Anaheim.

Cora laughed gaily. "Martha will be stunned when she learns that I am married."

"Stunned, my dear?" said Standish. "She should be stunned if such a beautiful girl as you did not marry."

Cora patted his cheek lovingly. "Martha is a lawyer, and an awfully clever one. I want you to meet her."

Cora found Martha's telephone number and in a call, but was informed that Miss Carter was in court. Cora did not give her name, explaining to Standish that she wanted to surprise Martha.

They had luncheon in their suite. After that, Standish went down to the lobby on the pretext of getting a box of cigars. He did get a box of cigars, but his chief object was to telephone to Lola. He could not get her at her apartment, and the next morning it was a matinee day. He decided he must somehow manage to slip out that evening to see her.

THAT evening, as he and Cora were dressing for dinner, he hit upon the scheme of taking Cora to a theater close to the Planet Theater, where Lola was playing. Then he could slip out at intermission, dash to the Planet, and have a few moments with Lola.

However, when he suggested a show to his wife, she shook her head.

"Please, darling," she said, "not tonight. I'm so terribly tired. I plan on getting a lot of sleep. I want to be rested for tomorrow. I have so many visits to make."

"Quite right, my dear," Standish agreed.

About nine-thirty, Cora got ready to retire.

"If you don't mind, my dear," Standish said, "I'll take a bit of a walk. If I go to bed as early as this I won't sleep."

"Of course I don't mind, Norman. The park is just across the street, and it's lovely there."

"Right."

Standish kissed her and departed. He walked two blocks from the St. Boritz before he took a taxi. It was just as well, he thought, not to have any of the hotel employees hear him give directions to be driven to the Planet Theater.

AT THE stage door of the Planet, he was told by the doorman, "Wait and I'll see if Miss Larkin wants to see you. What's the name?"

He gave the man his card, and smiled at the idea of Lola Larkin not wanting to see him.

The doorman gave the card to Speed Grogan, who glanced at it and muttered, "A new one, eh?"

Grogan tapped at Lola's dressing-room door, and called out, "There's a guy wants to see Miss Larkin."

Imogene opened the door, took the card, and handed it to Lola. "Is that guy okay-doke with you, Miss Larkin?" asked Grogan.

"I'll say he is!" Lola cried. "Show him in at once!"

Grogan went back, escorted Standish to the door, and tapped again. The door flew open, and Grogan saw Lola rush into her visitor's arms.

"It has been so long, old dear!" she cried, as Standish leaned down and kissed her.

"I say, darling, but it's good to see you again!" said Standish. Then, Lola closed the door. Speed Grogan stared at it and scratched his head.

Buy 2 Generators For Boulder Dam

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Secretary Ickes has awarded a $1,467,000 contract for manufacture of two more giant generators for Boulder Dam to the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

The generators will complete units in the Arizona wing of the power-house, for which contracts totaling $1,954,634 for turbines, governors, transformers and switches were awarded last week.

Lightning Starts 11 Forest Fires

SAN BERNARDINO, (AP)—C. C. C. crews stamped out today the last of 11 lightning fires started in the San Bernardino mountains by yesterday's severe electrical storm.

The storm was accompanied by extreme heat in the lowlands. At San Bernardino, it was 110 degrees, the highest temperature recorded since July 17, 1936, when it was 112.

Clerk Rings Up Dime, Gets Mouse

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—George Gilly, grocery clerk, rang up a dime today, but the cash register recorded a live mouse.

The register boosted the rodent into the little glass penthouse atop the box and guillotined its tail.

The mouse skittered back into the mechanism and rattled furiously about until Gilly took the register apart. It escaped.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, (AP)—Caught in cross currents of selling, the stock market yielded fractions to one or more points today.

U. S. Steel, the pace setter, led a late decline, dropping around 2 points after an earlier abortive rally. General Motors also turned in a heavy-headed performance, falling more than a point.

Earnings reports of both companies, issued after yesterday's close, provided the key to action of the shares, brokers said.

Some said offerings of steel on the common. Others attributed the recession to "selling on favorable news." The corporation's second quarter net was best since 1929.

Failure of General Motors to report a gain in earnings despite increased business brought selling to this issue, it was said.

For a time around mid-day aviation and metal shares found friends, but later they were left to shift for themselves. Closing prices:

Deer hunters, attention!
You who have been so bold as to use deer tags a second time, or to borrow those of another person, will be caught more easily this season, reminds the district game warden, H. C. Jackson of Orange.

Hereafter, beginning Aug. 27, all deer tags must be validated by some game warden, fire warden, forest guard, peace officer, postmaster or highway patrol officer. And it will be unlawful after that date for any person to have in possession while hunting, of course—the deer tags of another party.

Raoul Solis, the "Mauling Mexican of Santa Ana," receives a stern test tonight when he travels up the Brea canyon to fight San Bernardino's colored Ernie Carter at the Ontario arena.

Matchmaker George L. Stewart, legionnaire who does his booking at both the Ontario and Orange County Athletic clubs, has maintained Solis and Carter. Solis deserved the honor as the result of his decision over Uley Harris, light-heavyweight negro, in one of the Olympic preliminaries this week.

"Raoul will engage in about five more amateur fights. Then he definitely is turning pro under my management," informs Frankie Lockhart of Walker's gymnasium, a popular little fighter for himself. Lockhart believes his pupil will go a long way in the fight game.

Solis is a fair puncher and a clever boxer. What's more, he isn't afraid.

Gil Strother, San Juan Capistrano's towering basketball and football coach, is making a three-months' tour of the Pacific coast in a trailer which he had constructed at school. Last heard of, Gil was vacationing at Yosemite.

If you like comedy in your sport, drive out to Tustin tonight and see Dale Strawn's all-star fat men (none weighing less than 200 pounds) against George Dearborn's Tustin rookies in a novel softball game. It's a free-will offering benefit for Tustin's county league club, which will use primarily its faithful reserves who have warmed the bench this season.

There should be a world of laughs in watching those fat numbers bend over for a hot liner. Dearborn promises a basketful of chuckles.

HOCKADAY NINE FACES HAAN

SAN DIEGO REGAINS COAST LEAD WITH 6-5 WIN OVER SEATTLE

By the Associated Press
San Diego topped Pacific Coast league baseball again today after Howard Craghead, former Seattle Indian pitcher, came to its rescue to top a rally by the Tribe and give the Padres a 6 to 5 victory in 10 innings.

Berly Horne, former Padre pitcher, was credited with the defeat and was one of five Seattle hurlers whom the Padres battered for 12 hits. Manuel Salvo started for the Padres but was sent to the showers in the seventh when the Tribe converted five hits into as many runs.
Sacramento was virtually home-runned out of first place. Circuit clouts by Bob Collins and Rip Russell marked Los Angeles' 4 to 2 win over the Solons. Russell got three for three while Ted Williams of the Solons smashed a homer for one of his four hits in four times at bat.

Two baggers were plentiful in the game. Art Garibaldi of the Senators slashed a pair. Joe Oregno, a teammate, hit one and

While National Nightball league fans reviewed one of the most unusual three-game rounds of the season, Santa Ana's Stars today prepared for their special exhibition with the 1927 Old-Timers, managed by Kenneth Miller, inside the Municipal bowl at 8:15 o'clock tonight.

There will be a 25-cent admission, with proceeds going into the Santa Ana Elks' charity fund.

Young Roger Larimer fanned 16 rivals as the Orange Cubs, although outlived, 11-5, white-washed Santa Ana's Stars for the second time, 1 to 0, at the Municipal bowl last night. It could not be called an upset, because Liston Hill's Cubs have been playing inspired ball against all the leaders. But—

Over at Anaheim, Francis Penhall's rejuvenated Aviators retained all of their life to upset Clair (String) McDonnell's Valencias, 6 to 1, while outlived the fourth-place Anaheim nine, 9 to 6. OILERS WIN 3-2

Huntington Beach defeated San Bernardino, 3 to 2, in a thriller at San Bernardino in the third game.

The lineup Manager "Doc" Smith sends against the old-timers at the Bowl tonight will be the same as the one that played Orange with the exception of Frank Lukor, Long Beach City leaguer and Stars' utility man, who will start on the mound. Stan Jacobs (Bill) Cole, Tustin coach and one-time Star manager; Orville Schuchardt, George Preble, Darwin Scott, "Memphy" Hill, Horace Snow, "Rosy" Merrill, Wayne Nelson, Randolph Bell and Don Jerome will be among the oldsters seen in action.

Joe Rodgers, popular manager of the Huntington Beach Oilers, will serve as announcer, and several other league officials will participate. Manager Miller said, "Memphy" Hill was the offener (See OILERS, Page 7)

Three Oaks, including Manager Bill Meyer, were evicted from the ball park last night as the Seals measured the Acorns, 8 to 1. It all started in the third inning when the Seals collected five runs.

Meyer said Hay Rhyme was out at second on an attempted double play by the Oaks. Umpire Valerio said he was safe. Bob Gibson and Earl Bolyard said Rhyme was out. Valerio said he was safe. Rhyme started on second to score late while Meyer, Gibson and Bolyard sat in the clubhouse.

Ted Norbert of the Seals hit a homer with one on the bags in the eighth. Frank Lamantke, who came to the Seals from the Missions, hurled beautiful ball, limited the Oaks to five hits, fanned eight and held them scoreless until the ninth.

Honor Gil Kuhn Placentian Goes to Chicago

CHICAGO. (AP)—More than 5,000,000 gridiron fans, around 75,000 of whom will be here as witnesses, have picked the array of 1936 college aces they expect to whip the professional champion Green Bay Packers in the fourth annual all-star game at Soldier Field Sept. 1.

Since the big spectacle was introduced by the Chicago Tribune in 1934, no team of collegians has been able to conquer the professional standard bearer—the Chicago Bears the first two years, and Detroit's Lions a year ago.

All-America stars who will be in the starting lineup are big Sam Francis, Nebraska fullback and the leading vote-getter with 1,104,372; Gaynell Tinsley, Louisiana State end; Tackles Ed Widish of Minnesota and Averell Daniell of Pittsburgh, and Max Starcewich, Washington guard.

Three others of the all-America Larry Kelley, Yale, end; Center Mike Basrak of Dequesne and Ray Bulvid, Marquette, halfback, will be on the squad.

The other standing end will be Merle Wendt of Ohio State. Steve Reid, captain of Northwestern's Big Ten champions, will start at the other guard; Bud Svendsen of Minnesota, was selected to start at center, completing the line. Quarterback will be Vernon Huffman of Indiana, with Bobby La Rue of Pittsburgh, and Purdue's

SONNENBERG AND GARIBALDI BOOKED; TED KEY COMING

Matchmaker Tige Clinton today clinched a wrestling headliner for Monday night at the Orange County Athletic club that several Southern matchmakers have been attempting to land for the past few weeks, a three-fall battle between the former world champion, Gus Sonnenberg, and Gino Garibaldi, colorful Italian champion.

Sonnenberg signed a contract today to meet the Italian heavyweight for Promoter Sam Sampson at the Highway 101 club. The two top-notchers came to terms after several hours' bickering that found Sonnenberg holding out for

Outside of a fist-swinging, bat-swinging free for all in which he can take remote-control part by heaving a pop bottle, there's nothing the baseball fan loves more than the good old Merriwell finish.

The home run that zooms over a distant fence with the score tied and two out in the last half of the ninth, or the relief pitcher who strolls in from the bull pen to fan the heavy hitter with three men on—that's the kind of story book ending that keeps conversation alive on homeward bound street cars.

Most spectacular of the blows struck in winning causes were those delivered by Joseph Michael Medwick of the Cardinals, Robert (Red) Rolfe of the Yankees and Leslie George Scarsella of the Reds.

Joseph Michael, the pride of Carter, N. J., who has been leading the National League batting parade for so long it's a habit,

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By the Associated Press
RED ROLFE and RED RUFFING, Yankees—Former's eleventh inning homer with man on whipped Tigers, 6-5; later went route for thirteenth win.
RED LUCAS, Pirates—Held Phillies to six hits for 4-1 victory.
JOE MEDWICK, Cardinals—Ninth inning homer gave St. Louis 9-8 triumph over Giants.
FRANK DEMAREE, Cubs—Led nine-hit attack with single and two doubles as Dodgers were beaten, 5-2.

BILL WERBER, Athletics—His double in eighth drove in two runs that whipped Indians, 4-2.
LOU KOUPEL, Browns, and JIMMY FOX, Red Sox—Former scattered nine hits to check Sox, 8-5; latter had perfect day at bat with four-bagger and pair of doubles.
LEE GRISSOM and LES SCARSELLA, Reds—Grisson fanned 10, gave one walk and only four hits to halt Bees, 3-2; latter's ninth inning homer with man on provided winning margin.

BILLY MYERS, Senators—Singled in ninth to drive in run that beat White Sox, 6-5.
Five years ago—Paavo Nurmi's entry rejected for Olympic games on charges of professionalism.

PRIEBE QUILTS AT F. J. C.

Ex-Halfback Star to Lead Yellowjackets Against Santa Anans

Wendell Pickens, 25, ex-backfield flash at Arizona State Teachers' college at Tempe, will succeed Roy Priebe of U. S. C. as head football coach at Fullerton Junior college.

The appointment was announced officially today, following a meeting of the upcounty school board with Superintendent Louis Plummer yesterday afternoon.

Priebe, who came to Fullerton last year after a successful term at Santa Paula High school, resigned to apply for a position in the Los Angeles city school system either at Garfield High school or at Los Angeles Junior college. Priebe, who specializes in motion pictures as an aid to athletics, hopes to land a position other than football-coaching. At L. A. J. C., he probably would coach track and ice hockey.

Pickens was graduated from Fullerton High school in 1930 with Floyd (Arky) Vaughan, now the sensational shortstop of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Pickens transferred to Fullerton Junior college, where he was a threat in basketball and football. He was a baseball star at Fullerton High.

Change of coaches probably will mean a change of systems. Priebe is a Trojan-schooled man, while Pickens teaches a combination of Warner and a system of his own. His assistant will be Linan Dietrich, one-time Whittier star, who now serves as athletic director of the Yorba Linda schools.

It is likely that Pickens will introduce some Trojan tactics, however, because he served as Priebe's assistant last fall, and attended the U. S. C. graduate school.

Joe Levy Planning Another Big Fight Card for Gilmore

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Negotiations were underway today to line up another boxing card for presentation at Gilmore stadium next month.

Promoter Joe Levy, who inaugurated boxing at the Stadium last Monday night, said 13,600 customers paid $27,047, a figure minus government taxes—see the show.

With fighters' purses totalling $18,200, the biggest guarantee went to Pedro Montez, who knocked out Wesley Ramey, Michigan lightweight, in one round. Montez got $6000, Ramey $2000. Jack Dempsey received $3000 for refereeing the match, which lasted 2 minutes and 40 seconds.

The next biggest purse went to Albert Lovell, Argentine heavyweight. He received $2750 for winning over Red Burman. Burman got $2000.

HARNESS RACING ON COAST OVAL

SANTA BARBARA. (AP)—Totokoolah, owned by Mrs. William P. Roth and Mrs. George Uhl of San Francisco, won the feature stake for fine harness horses last night at the opening of the 12th annual Santa Barbara National Horse show.

Mrs. Chester O. Michael's Hazeline Dare, a bay horse from Kansas City, was first in the novice 3 gaited saddle horse class.

Belbrook stables, San Diego, won, the five gaited saddle mares competition. Friska Doon, owned by Mrs. Charles Daglow of San Francisco, captured the triple bar jump.

The hackney pony class was won by the Carnation stables, Pomona.

LIONETTES PLAY L. A. KUTIES

Kennedy's Kuties of Los Angeles will furnish the opposition for the Orange Lionettes' girls' softball club, at the Orange city park, tomorrow night. Coach Alvin (Whitey) Edwards announced.

Budge and Davis Cup Party To Sail for Home Friday

By SCOTTY RESTON
LONDON. (AP)—Don Budge and his victorious teammates left the Davis cup in care of a London bobby today as they went out to do some postponed shopping for presents and trinkets before sailing for New York on the S. S. Manhattan Friday.

Meanwhile, London tennis critics paraded superlatives in favor of the American team's play and in honor of Britain's pathetic loss.

Herbert Roper Barrett, British team captain, said of Budge: "He's not only the premier singles player of the world but what's even more extraordinary he's a superlative doubles player as well."

Tommy Farr talks a whale of a fight.

Whether the latest British heavyweight importation is as fluent with his fists as with his tongue remains to be seen. But if you are willing to take his word for it there will be a new world heavyweight champion crowned after he squares off against Joe Louis late in August.

"And after I defend the title two or three times (winning it is a mere formality), I shall retire," spoke Tommy bravely as the Berengaria made her way up New York harbor. "Got to give some other fellow a chance, you know."

Purely on the strength of his record there is little reason to agree with the British brawler that Louis is going to prove a soft touch. On the contrary, there is every indication that if either is to prove an easy mark it is likely to be the visitor from abroad.

Farr outpointed Tommy Loughran, the record book shows, and he beat Ben Ford, Max Baer and Walter Neusel, stopping the latter in four heats. He has improved in the last six months but it is extremely doubtful that he has come along far enough to extend the Brown Bomber.

Farr bases his confidence on the fact he has made an exhaustive study of the Bomber's recent fights from movies and is convinced that Louis can be hit. And then, too, he has met and defeated eight or nine colored fighters.

Reports from abroad have it that Farr is a fair boxer and able to absorb considerable punishment but if he packs a knockout punch he has failed to show it.

In appearance he reminds one of an English bulldog. His background indicates that he comes of rugged stock, his father and grandfather before him having gained some measure of renown as bare-knuckle fighters. Perhaps here is a British heavy who can stay on his feet for a while.

TUSTIN FATTIES PLAY TONIGHT

Tustin's fat men, those averaging 200 pounds or more, will battle George Dearborn's Tustin rookies in a special softball game on the Tustin diamond tonight. There will be a free-will offering as a benefit to Tustin's County league nine. Dearborn plans to play mainly his rookies who have warmed the bench this season. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Southland Sends Six Golfers to Oregon Amateur

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Headed by Jimmy McHale of San Gabriel, Southern California will send six representatives to compete in the national amateur golf tournament at Portland, Ore., next month.

McHale, qualifying over the Midweek Country club course yesterday, turned in a 36-hole score of 72-69-141.

All of the qualifiers indicated they would play in the national. Others qualifying out of the field of 16 were: Jeb Halaby, Los Angeles, 73-69-142; Jack Gaines, Glendale, 73-70-143; Fred Clark, jr., San Gabriel, 75-69-144; Frank Hixon, Pasadena, 71-78-147; Roger Kelly, Los Angeles, 74-78-150.

Farr, Louis in Training Camp

Heavyweights Sign for Aug. 26 Fight At New York Yankee Stadium

NEW YORK. (AP)—Tommy Farr, the Welsh challenger, and Joe Louis were in their training camps at Long Branch and Pompton Lakes, N. J., today ready to get down to serious training for their heavyweight title bout in the Yankee stadium, Aug. 26. Louis and Farr formally signed for the bout in the offices of the New York state athletic commission yesterday. Also, both agreed along with the 20th Century Sporting club, to post appearance checks of $5000 each.

The new champion will take things easy until Saturday when his first boxing session is scheduled. Farr, however, intends taking on a few sparmates tomorrow. Physicians have said his sun burn will have healed sufficiently to permit him boxing tomorrow.

HUGHES, JONES FIGHT HERE

"Southern Pacific A. A. U. champ or not, I'm going in the ring Thursday night and prove that I'm the better man," dusky 190-pound George Hughes said, when he was matched with John Hanschen of Ontario.

Hughes, who whittled the Fullerton caveman, Lupe LeMon, down to his size several times at the Orange County Athletic club, hopes for a decisive victory over Hanschen.

This bout is one of the double main event, also featuring Jack Jones, Newport Harbor, who has just returned from Oregon. Jones will battle Ray Thompson.

Promoter George Stewart has announced the four preliminary bouts will bring together some of the fastest simon pures in the Southland.

Jimmy Martin of the Jeffries' barn will battle Golden Lee, San Bernardino, in a 170-pound, four-round battle. Clyde Alexander of Ontario will oppose Max Kepner of Burbank; Maury Corder meets Robert Vergeront of Riverside at 145 pounds, and Al Roberts will take on Manuel Valencia of Los Angeles.

Lanky Texan Next For Eddie Simms

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Tom Beaupre, lanky Dallas, Tex., heavyweight, was signed today to meet Eddie Simms of Cleveland at the Olympic auditorium next Tuesday.

Simms flattened Phil Brubaker, one-time Dinuba, Calif., hopeful, here last week. Beaupre's appearance will be his first in Los Angeles. The bout is down for 10 rounds.

Fred Friday Races To Midget Upset

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Fred Friday rode into the circle of midget auto winners last night with an upset victory in the 40-lap feature at Atlantic speedway.

Dislodging Bob Swanson and Sam Hanks from their vaunted supremacy, Friday went the distance in 11 minutes 22.10 seconds. He also won the three-lap trophy dash in 51.30 seconds.

"BABES IN THE WOODS BACK DR. TOWNSEND"

Tonight's the night for the Townsend hall administration board meeting at 7:30 at Townsend hall, 509 West Fourth street.

Recently the writer received a letter from Idyllwild which said: "We have been up here in the mountains since April 26th. We are writing to tell you how much we enjoy your column in the Journal. We feel we are receiving authentic news of the Townsend activities. We are still for Dr. Townsend 100 per cent regardless of what Harry R. Sheppard or any others may say about him. Dr. Townsend has proven himself true blue."

(Signed) The two "Babes in the Woods."
MRS. BERTHA BLOCKER
and MRS. IDA WALKER.

Santa Ana Club No. 3 has received word that Capt. Russell R. Hand, Los Angeles, will not be able to be present to address the gathering in Townsend hall tomorrow night. But Attorney John Jennings, Los Angeles, will come in his stead, and will follow the Hurd-Lentz orchestra concert with an address on the latest happenings in the Townsend movement.

The Townsend picnic held Saturday afternoon and evening in the Jack Fisher park was attended by some 250 Townsendites. Santa Ana Townsend Club No. 6, under the leadership of Pres. A. M. Mapes and his wife, sponsored the event. Grant Henderson directed the community singing and L. C. Carlisle and Walter R. Robb were the evening speakers.

Mrs. John Lewis, who has been in the county hospital for several months because of a dislocated hip is now beginning to mend quite rapidly.

Mrs. Flora Dolbe, treasurer of Santa Ana Club No. 5, has a letter from Dr. Francis E. Townsend acknowledging receipt of $32.60 to assist Townsend National headquarters in the emergency period which followed the walkout of the 12 employees of the Chicago headquarters. E. A. Cox former secretary of this club who now lives in Banning was elected president of the Townsend club there.

Costa Mesa Club No. 2 recently elected the following to office and places of responsibility for the balance of 1937: H. F. Robertson, president; E. M. Swain, vice president; Mrs. Hattie O. Drake, secretary and Mrs. Sophia Olsen, treasurer. The following compose the advisory board: George Moreland, Mrs. C. M. Swain, James M. Singletary, W. A. Hatch and Mrs. Hatch. Mrs. H. F. Robertson, publicity and program chairman; Chas. Cowan, finance committee chairman and H. P. Olsen, membership committee chairman. This club meets on Friday nights in the Lindbergh school building.

Stabilization Law Hope Dims

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Chairman Jones (D., Tex.) announced after a house agriculture committee conference with national farm organization representatives that prospects for price stabilization legislation this session were not "especially bright."

The Texan said divergent views of the farm leaders coupled with prospects for early adjournment stood as barriers to immediate passage of a general farm bill.

Boulder Power Line Completed

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Eight months ahead of schedule, the 237-mile electric transmission line which will carry power from Boulder Dam to the five pumping plants on the Colorado river aqueduct has been completed.

Huge pumps, Metropolitan Water District officials said, will lift the aqueduct water a total height of 1600 feet on its 392-mile journey from the river to 13 Southern California cities.

ARM SIGNALS EXPLAINED

"A traffic safety aid that can be of considerable value in accident prevention, yet is not used as generally as it should be, is the easily made arm signal," observes Louis A. Schlesinger, of the sales department of the L. D. Coffing company, Orange county dealers for Dodge and Plymouth.

Failure of the arm signal, he says, to find more nearly universal adoption is partly due to the circumstance that the customary signs have different meanings in different localities and are therefore not easily remembered, especially by motorists whose traveling takes them across state lines. "A practical and at the same time easily remembered scheme is the following: The arm extended straight out indicates "Stop." We will not forget this as long as we know that both words, Straight and Stop begin with the letter "S." To signal a right turn, we raise the arm. Get it—Raise beginning with "R," means Right. Similarly, when we want to signal a left turn, we lower the arm, pointing toward the ground. Lowered beginning with "L," meaning Left.

"Once the significance of the three arm motions is explained, it is promptly understood; and once it is understood, it is hardly ever forgotten. If a simple, logical signal code like this could be adopted universally—just as all our railroads agree on a common signal system—it would help in cutting down our mishap statistics, I am sure."

Seeks Share of Houston Estate

PERTH, West Australia. (AP)—Mrs. Annie Houston of Melbourne has advanced a claim to the estimated $25,000,000 estate left by the late Lady Robert Houston. Mrs. Houston claims her late husband, George Muir Houston, was a nephew of Sir Robert Houston who amassed the huge fortune in shipping. She was said to have sent documents to London to substantiate her claim.

Lady Houston died intestate last December. She had left the estate to Miss Juliana Hoare who predeceased her and attorneys said they would divide the estate among six relatives. Lady Houston won control of the fortune left by her husband in 1928 when she was declared sane by a Jersey court.

Huge Loss Is Laid to Strikes

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The labor department estimated today that 4,500,000 man-days of work were lost last month because of strikes. A preliminary survey showed that 575 strikes started during June, that 300 were in progress June 1 and that 530 ended during the month. The preliminary figures showed

RULING CITED ON WHEELBASES

Safety legislation in many states now makes it illegal for anyone other than the manufacturer to extend the wheelbase for mounting school bus bodies, according to W. L. Scheib, commercial division manager, Ford Motor company, Long Beach branch.

Scheib pointed out that this legislation has caused a marked increase in demand for a long wheelbase chassis. To meet this demand and to assure maximum safety, the Ford Motor company has recently made available a 191-inch wheelbase, 85 horsepower V-8 chassis.

He went on to say that this special chassis is furnished on special order for mounting of bus bodies only. Specifications are the same as those for the 157-inch Ford V-8 chassis except the longer frame, extra jack-shaft, extra cross member, and longer brake rods.

that more man-days of work were lost in June than during any month so far this year or any month in 1936.

So far this year, more days have been lost than during all of 1936.

Tokyo Plays Joke on Goose

TOKYO. (AP)—Four baby peacocks have been hatched at Ueno zoo here, with the aid of a goose. A pea-hen laid four eggs, but refused to sit on them. So a goose was brought in. When four little squeaking, green-plumed peacocks appeared, the goose seemed surprised, but she agreed to feed them.

Children Get $100 Each for Finding Spies

DROP 150 ALIENS FROM WPA HERE FRIDAY

S. A. FOLDER GETS BRONX IN DENVER

Joe Bungstarter Asks
City Council About ItDenver, Colo.,
July 28, 1937.
Santa Ana City Council,
Santa Ana, Calif.,
The Ideal City,
Honored Sirs:

I am writing you to verify certain facts which I have noticed in a pamphlet which an Elk gave me last week during the big national convention here in Denver. Some of the facts, I wonder, whether, should be verified before I and the wife and Sonny Boy and Sister get in our de luxe model automobile and trailer and start for Santa Ana, the Ideal City, as this folder seems to have been printed about 10 years ago.

The Elk who gave me this pamphlet seemed to be very much ashamed of it. He said the old-fashioned pictures and make-up has caused local delegates to get the raspberry from everybody else at the convention, but that you gentlemen had given them severe. Don't tell me he is still mayor because he was elected in 1925, I think.

I am writing to ask about several things, including the bathing suits. The suits on the girls in the pictures seem to be unusually modest. They come halfway down to the knee and almost up around the neck. Are S. A. girls that far behind times in bathing fashions?

I also see a picture of Frank L. Purnell, the first mayor. Don't tell me he is still mayor because he was elected in 1925, I think.

The skirt styles are peculiar, too. They are knee high, just like back in 1928.

1926 MODEL CARS

The automobiles in those pictures seem to be 1926 models or older, which may be because of the high cost of shipping newer cars out to Santa Ana.

Some of the pictures show people playing polo; quite a number of the pictures show the same game. Where, Mr. Council, does one play polo in Santa Ana? Sonny Boy wants to know. You mention a Midway field; is that in Santa Ana? Homer Brew, next door neighbor, says he thinks it is in Pasadena; or is that a suburb of Santa Ana?

Where is Santa Ana, please, do "mountain streams leap over rocky precipices, and where are the "green backed canals of Venice," if they are not in Italy? Do you toboggan down the principal streets, as the picture shows, in the winter time, or just the side streets? We have ice skates, too, if anything else is a frost.

HELEN WILLS HERE

I see by your pamphlet that such stars as Helen Wills, play regularly in the Santa Ana playground area. Also Mary Browne, Elizabeth Ryan, Harvey Snodgrass, and a host of others. I thought all these had retired. And the Palomar and Los Angeles tennis clubs, are they near Santa Ana?

Yachting and boating in this playground area, I see by the pamphlet, are fun. Santa Barbara channel and Ensenada, Mexico, are places to cruise, I see. Would my water wings get me there?

In the High Sierras, I see, and in mountains forming the northern boundary of this playground area, are to be found the antelope. Is this correct, or did you mean the Elk, possibly the gentleman who gave me this book?

In the motoring section I see a large bridge. Mr. Brew next door says that also is in Pasadena, along Colorado street. Is this true? A direct entrance also from the playground area to Death Valley. It must be a large area, Mr. Council, is it?

I, too, am interested in sports. How long has it been, Mr. City Council, since Brick Muller and Ernie Nevers have been romping over football fields in the Santa Ana playground area, or did they? Are the Portland Beavers still training at the Orange County Fair grounds? Where does Charley Paddock run?

SUCH LIVING COSTS!

Round trips to Laguna Beach, $1.20, is that right? Lake Arrowhead, $8.05? And where is the Meyer hotel in Santa Ana? And St. Ann's Inn, which you say is the rendezvous of society events and club affairs?

The wife wants to know about living costs, so I showed her what

CHECK ARTIST STEALS TIRE

A well-known check cashing fraud—one that was "worked" four times in Santa Ana last week—has been proved expensive to an Orange man.

W. J. Rice, 244 North Glassell street, Orange, told police that a man had bought a tire from him and given him a check for $36.40 in payment. Rice gave the buyer change in cash. As usual, the check passer told his victim that his car was parked down the street. But when he went to get it, he failed to return.

The name on the check was Theodore W. Papineau, 143 Buffalo street, Santa Ana.

You said in your pamphlet which the Elk gave to me. Are eggs still 35 cents a dozen, and why? Is butter 50 cents a pound? These seem high. But then leg of lamb is listed as 27 cents, which seems low. And fillet of sole 20 cents. Which also is lower than here.

I would have asked the Elk who gave me the pamphlet about the pictures, but he was very embarrassed from being kidded by everybody else about the folder and gurgled away too fast.

Please let me have an early answer, Mr. City Council.

Thank you,

JOE BUNGSTARTER.

WPA OFFICE STAFF TO BE REDUCED

Release of Girl to Be Followed By Others

A number of administrative employees of the WPA in Orange county were faced with loss of their jobs today.

A dwindling case load will necessitate pruning the administrative staff of the Works Progress Administration in this county, The Journal learned today.

Dan Mulherron, chief of the division of operations for Orange county, said it will be necessary soon to start cutting down the number on the administrative staff.

There now are about 29 administrative employees, including traveling timekeepers, engineers, inspectors, etc., besides those actually employed in the office in the Ramona building. One girl was released from her job yesterday in the first move to carry out the plan of staff reduction.

The entire case load on WPA in Orange county now is but 1857, including all branches of activity.

Checking performances on eligible farms participating in the 1937 agricultural conservation program has gotten off to a good start in Orange county, according to J. H. Burnett, secretary of the local conservation association.

Eleven supervisors are in the field in the different districts of the county. September 15 has been set as a tentative date for the completion of the performance checking. Farmers can be of considerable assistance by making a preliminary report to the association

MULHERRON GETS ORDER FOR SLASH

Group Will Be Offered Free Trip Home

Works Progress administration officials moved swiftly today to strike aliens from the work relief rolls in this county.

Orders received from San Francisco headquarters of the WPA by Dan Mulherron, head of the division of operations in this county, were put into effect with the result that about 150 aliens will be separated from projects, The Journal learned.

Mulherron said he expects to have the aliens off the WPA rolls by Friday of this week.

Because most of the Mexicans ordinarily on WPA rolls now are working in private agricultural fields, the number affected by the drastic new order is not as large as it would have been. It was estimated that ultimately the order will affect from 500 to 600 aliens who have had WPA work here in the past.

A bulletin received from Mulherron said: "The WPA shall not knowingly permit the employment on projects of aliens illegally within the limits of the United States, or aliens who have not filed declaration of intention to become United States citizens."

In the meantime, it was uncertain what the fate of aliens dependent upon SRA relief will be. A new policy set up by the State Relief administration makes it possible for the SRA to refuse aid to aliens, unless such action would work an undue hardship. The aliens are to be offered transportation back to their native land. If they refuse, SRA aid may be denied them.

before a supervisor is sent to inspect their farms.

Crop maps of compliance farms within the county will be made this year. During the week field engineers will meet at the Santa Ana office of the association to plan the surveying and mapping of farms. A surveying crew will be in the field within the next two weeks.

Fay R. Harvey Weds Helen Bennett

Heirloom Gown Worn By Descendant Of County Pioneers

An ivory satin gown, more than a century old, was the beautiful costume worn last evening by Miss Helen Bennett, daughter of one of Orange county's most prominent pioneer families, when she became the bride of Fay R. Harvey of Huntington Park.

Miss Bennett's frock, exquisitely stitched by hand, was lent her by a close friend, Mrs. Fred Nelson. Over its princess lines flowed a veil of old English lace, simply caught to her hair. She carried a shower bouquet of mystery gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Softest tones of apricot and blue worn by her attendants offset the fragile ivory of the bride's dress. Her sister, Miss Beverly Bennett, as maid of honor, was gowned in apricot moire taffeta, carrying a spray of bluish-hued dahlias. Miss Yvette Blanc and Miss Ida Marie Swartz were attired similarly in picturesque frocks of blue net over powder blue taffeta, and carried tallman roses and sweet peas.

The bridal party was preceded down the aisle of the flower-filled Wedding Chapel by two dainty little flower girls, Miss Bonnie Lucille Bennett and Miss Maxine Elaine Osterman, demure figures in their princess style gowns of yellow taffeta which swept the floor. They carried quaint colonial nosegays.

Mr. Harvey was attended by John Harvey, while ushers were William Harvey and Joseph Harvey. Miss Bennett entered the chapel on the arm of her father, Harvey F. Bennett, who gave her in marriage, the rites of which were read by the Rev. Earl C. Bloss.

Close friends of the bride rendered the lovely music which preceded the ceremony. Miss Virginia Houghton of Whittier was at the piano, and Miss Helen Marshall was vocalist, singing the ever beautiful "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and "Ich Liebe Dich."

Eighty guests were received by the bride and groom, by the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bennett, and by the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Harvey at a reception in the Doris Kathryn tea shoppe. Later in the evening the bridal couple left on a northern honeymoon, after which they will make their home in Huntington Park.

The new Mrs. Harvey will continue her graduate work at the Los Angeles College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons. She is a granddaughter of the late C. F. Bennett of Tustin and Mrs. Helen Bennett, and Mr. and Mrs. T. F. McDonnell, all prominent early settlers of Orange county. Her paternal grandfather served in the state assembly at one time and was a Civil war veteran. The Bennett family has lived in the county on Tustin avenue for more than 80 years.

Both she and Mr. Harvey attended Whittier college, and the latter is now connected with the Bethlehem Steel Corp. at Huntington Park.

A spoon is served ordinarily with an avocado pear cut in halves. If the pear is sliced, as it is in an appetizer or salad, a fork should be provided.

LEATHER BAG AND BONNET

A hat and bag of creamy leather rimmed with bright colored rosettes accent this dark town frock. The dress itself is perfect for hot weather wear in town. It is designed of sheer dark blue rayon crepe, banded in grosgrain ribbon and collared in white Swiss organdy.

TWO HONORED BY YOUNG PEOPLE AT DINNER

The pretty lawn and garden of Mrs. Elizabeth Coe's home at 1457 Orange avenue was setting for a dinner party given Monday evening by 50 young people of the Foursquare church who wished to honor C. W. Riddle and Rory Dilly, both of whom donated their services to the redecoration of the Crusaders' chapel this month.

One long table had been decorated in a pink and white color scheme by the Misses Mildred Ekwall and Irene McIntee, and lovely gifts were presented to both honor guests. A surprise feature was the showering of handkerchiefs upon Miss Wyoma Sewelke, who will leave soon to make her home in Eugene, Oregon.

Special guests of the young people were the church co-pastors, the Rev. W. C. and the Rev. Alice Parham, and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Ramseyer of Chicago.

FOURSOME HAS MOUNTAIN OUTING

Mrs. George Chapman, 2032 North Main street, entertained a small house party at the Chapman cabin at Los Creek, San Bernardino mountains during the past week.

Her guests for the pleasant vacation outing were Mrs. E. F. Mues, Mrs. A. F. Farrar, and Mrs. C. B. Hill.

TOROSAS ENTERTAINED BY SYCAMORES

Sycamore Rebekahs entertained with a program of readings and a dessert course in the I. O. O. F. hall recently with Mrs. Gladys McDonald, past noble grand of the Torosa Rebekahs, leading the officers of her group who attended in a body.

Refreshments were served in the dining hall with many bowls of perennial sweet peas and zinnias decorating the tables. Mrs. Lillian Ellis was refreshment chairman. Mrs. M. E. Getting gave two readings, "Half-hour on the Beach" and "Prodigal Son," during the entertainment.

FOUR LOCAL WOMEN ATTEND CONFERENCE

Miss Alma Karlsson, Miss Damaris Beeman, Miss Lena Thomas, and Miss Martha Whitson went to San Diego over the week-end to attend a summer conference of the Business and Professional Women of Southern California.

The affair, held at the San Diego Civic club, featured a business session Saturday afternoon, a banquet that evening at which Dr. W. B. Ballentine Henley of U. S. C. was guest speaker, and a delightful Sunday breakfast.

The latter event was sponsored by the Oceanside club, and was called an "Aunt Jemima Minstrel Show." Each guest was given a gay-colored bandana as souvenir of the meeting.

Two Sections Join For Picnic

Members of both the evening social section and the afternoon social section of the Santa Ana Woman's club met yesterday afternoon for a combined summer party in Jack Fisher park.

More than 20 members of the two sections were present to enjoy the pot-luck luncheon served at noon, with games of contract and auction bridge scheduled for the afternoon.

Plans were made for the next combined party of the groups tentatively set for Aug. 24 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Clark, 1322 North Garnsey street. Members will meet for an afternoon of bridge, with husbands joining them for dinner in the evening.

Mrs. Richard J. Pagett, head of the evening social section, and Mrs. G. F. Hulse, head of the afternoon group, joined as co-hostesses for yesterday's luncheon and bridge.

Included in the group of members and their guests who attended the party in Fisher park were the Mesdames R. G. Carman, Charles W. Clark, Leland Eubank, W. H. Kuhn, J. G. Limbird, S. E. Little, E. G. Maier, F. A. Martin, R. A. McMahon, Hal Noel and R. J. Pagett.

Also the Mesdames Clyde A. Bach, R. E. McBurney, Fern Talbot, R. E. Waldron, C. R. Walter, J. D. Watkins, E. C. Wilson, C. A. Hossfield, G. F. Hulse, Mary Cral, and Mrs. W. M. Wells of La Jolla.

MANY ATTEND PARTY GIVEN BY WHITE SHRINE

More than 80 people enjoyed yesterday afternoon's luncheon and bridge party sponsored by Damascus White Shrine at the Masonic temple.

Lovely zinnias and marigolds decorated tables where luncheon was served, and later both contract and auction were enjoyed. Prizes at the former game were won by the Mesdames Etta Sweet, Vera Jacoby, Ethel Shafer, and Anna Teak, while at the latter they went to Miss Henrietta Hoffing, and the Mesdames Susie Hefrich, Lucille Clark, and Helen Aubin.

In charge of arrangements for the afternoon was a committee composed of the Mesdames A. E. Wallace, W. B. McConnell, J. H. French, W. W. Hyde, C. N. Ellis, F. R. Reid, H. C. Cameron, C. A. Whittier and Katherine Goode.

THEATER PARTY HONORS PHYLLIS HAMNER

With a full day of activities, Miss Phyllis Irene Hamner, 1201 South Birch street, celebrated her eleventh birthday anniversary, Monday.

First opening gifts at her home, she and her guests attended a theater matinee, later returning to her home for refreshments.

The Hamner home was decorated in yellow and green flowers and streamers, with Mrs. Arthur R. Hamner acting as hostess. She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Della Lamont in these duties.

Prizes at games, which preceded the theater party, were won by Miss Mabel Casteix and by Miss Dorothy Valentine.

Guests of Miss Hamner were Miss Patricia Joyce Vaughn, Miss Dorothy Jean Valentine, Miss Mabel Louise Casteix, Miss Velma Clyde Shipp, Miss Nona Jean Jaeger, Miss Edna May Squires.

LOCAL TRIO RETURN FROM NORTHERN TRIP

Dr. Julia Hinrichs, Mrs. J. F. Muller, and Mrs. Theodore Bratsch of Villa Park returned to their homes Monday after a month's trip in the North.

Driving north to Seattle over four weeks ago, the Orange county trio drove over the Columbia river highway and saw the Grand Coulee dam in Washington. From Seattle they sailed on the S. S. Northwestern through the Inside Passage to Skagway, visiting salmon canneries and watching several of the salmon runs.

In Canada, before returning to California, the party paused for a while at Lake Bennett. On the homeward trip they drove down the Coast highway, traveling for a time over the new San Simeon road.

ARMY OFFICER VISITOR HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cubbon, 1102 West Fourth street, are entertaining Mrs. Cubbon's brother, Col. Albert Peaks of the United States Army who is visiting here from Washington, D. C., for a week.

Colonel Peaks was host to Mrs. Hazel Cubbon and a group of her traveling companions when they were visitors in Washington, D. C., on route to Europe. Others in the party then were Miss Effie Douglas, Mrs. Homer Bosworth, and Miss Barbara Warner.

CLUB MEETS AT FULLER HOME

Mrs. E. H. Fuller of 2395 North Flower street entertained her afternoon card club Wednesday, with bridge the sole diversion of the day.

Members present were Mrs. E. L. McKamy, Mrs. J. E. Yocum, Mrs. Harry Edwards, Mrs. C. Van Dusen, Mrs. Howard Shugart, Mrs. Emma Wright of Surfside, and a guest substitute, Mrs. Mabel Hutton.

Dozen Guests At Dinsmore Luncheon

Launching her entertaining in Santa Ana with a delightfully informal party, Mrs. Paul Dinsmore, who has been widely feted since she and Mr. Dinsmore arrived from Piedmont to make their home on the Irvine ranch, entertained with a luncheon and bridge yesterday.

Her ranch home was setting for the event, and guests were seated at one table decorated with a low bowl of sweet peas and delphinium. Later in the afternoon table prizes of dainty china cups and saucers were awarded Mrs. Z. B. West, Mrs. A. G. Flagg and Mrs. Lloyd Chenoweth.

Guests of Mrs. Dinsmore were Mrs. West, Mrs. Flagg, Mrs. Chenoweth, Mrs. Howard Timmons, Mrs. L. G. Swales, Mrs. R. C. Holmes, her houseguest, Miss Josephine Holmes, Mrs. Edward Hall, Mrs. Ray Chandler, Mrs. Mortimer Plum and Mrs. Dexter Ball.

NEWLYWEDS MAKE HOME AT BLYTHE

Of much interest to residents of Orange county is announcement of the wedding Saturday of Miss Doris Riffle, daughter of the R. S. Riffles of Orange, and Raymond St. Clair, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gardner of Villa Park.

Culminating a romance which had its beginning several years ago, the marriage ceremony was performed in the presence of the Orange Christian church by the Rev. William R. Holder. Witnesses were Mrs. Holder and two close friends of the bridegroom, Gene Erbentraut of Orange, and Douglass Basse of Westminster.

Miss Riffle, who won a smart outfit of beige with British tan accessories and a corsage of gardenias, was graduated from Orange Union High school, as did Mr. St. Clair. The latter attended Santa Ana Junior college and is a member of the Junior Lions club. The new bride and groom are making their home at Blythe.

COSTA MESA CORPS HONORS COUNTY GROUP

More than 100 members of Federation No. 1, Woman's Relief corps, from all over Orange county, were entertained Monday by the Costa Mesa corps at luncheon and all-day meeting in the Costa Mesa Woman's club house.

Mrs. Florence Merriam of Orange, the president, conducted the business meeting. Messages of welcome were read by Mrs. J. H. Crowley, president of the Costa Mesa chapter of commerce, and by Mrs. Daisy Radabaugh, president of the Costa Mesa corps. Mrs. Minnie Higgins of Huntington Beach gave the response.

Celebrating past president's day, a short exercise was conducted by Mrs. Estelle Gray of Santa Ana, founder of Federation No. 1. Reports by presidents of the different corps were read. A letter from the adopted soldier, J. M. Kang, now in a soldier's hospital, was read, and the traveling flag was presented to the Costa Mesa chapter.

During the entertainment program, Mrs. M. E. Getting gave a talk on the water bonds, and other readings were given by Mrs. LeVina Stanley of Whittier. A saxophone solo was played by Harold Wright, and a whistling number by Verna Hall of Costa Mesa.

BIRTHDAY IS CELEBRATED AT DANIGERS'

A family dinner party at Danigers' Monday night was the means Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. Redmond chose to honor their small daughter, Miss Joan Redmond on her eighth birthday.

At the close of the dinner, Miss Joan was presented with a pink and white birthday cake and numerous gifts. Following the party, they attended a local theater.

Guests of Miss Joan were Mr. and Mrs. Redmond and her cousin, Miss Johnette Galbraith of Yuma, Ariz., who is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hall, 2700 North Main street, for the summer months.

PARKERS ARE HOSTS TO MANY

Dr. and Mrs. Harvey G. Parker, who recently moved into their newly decorated ranch home between Santa Ana and Tustin, have had a number of house guests lately. On Sunday they were visited by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Elliott King of San Diego, Mrs. Carl Scofield of China, Mr. and Mrs. Louise King and Miss Margaret King of Hollywood, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brennan of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Jennison Parker are spending the summer in Los Angeles, and are New Yorkers. They are frequent visitors of the Harvey Parkers, parents of the former.

WEE GIRL GOES TO EL PASO

Little Miss Patsy Ruth McKemy, two-year-old daughter of the Hugh McKemys of 1345 South Garnsey street, has gone to El Paso to spend the remainder of the summer with her grandparents, Mrs. W. A. McKemy and Mr. and Mrs. B. Peters.

Patsy Ruth, just two years old, is recuperating from a serious illness.

SWOOPING TO THE SKIES

Feathers trim a number of new fall hats. Suzy of Paris chooses a black quill pointing skyward to accent this new black felt beret. Notice the unusual line of the hat, rolling backward from the face.

Mary Stoddard Coed, Just Nineteen, Fears She Will Lose Boy While Finishing College

Why there are so many cases of inferiority complexes, it is hard to tell. Recently we had a long discussion of the subject with a few suggestions as to manners of getting rid of them. But the most concrete example of complete lack of self-confidence, that I have yet to find, is here between the lines of the following letter: Dear Mary:

WHITTIER COUPLE ARE MARRIED HERE

Quiet wedding rites in the moonlight patio of the Santa Ana Wedding chapel performed by the Rev. Earl C. Bloss Monday night joined Miss Helen Elizabeth Emry and Lawrence H. Daniel of Whittier in marriage.

Wearing a gardenia corsage, the bride was gowned in a white crepe dress with dark brown trim and accessories. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. J. W. Clerkew of Whittier who wore pink flowered crepe with white accessories and a corsage of tallman roses.

Ellis Emry, father of the bride, acted as best man.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Emry of 518 Highland avenue, Whittier, is a graduate of both Whittier high school and Whittier college. She is employed as a dental assistant in the office of Dr. Paul Standley, Whittier.

Daniel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Daniel of Catalina avenue, Whittier. He is a graduate of Whittier high school and is employed with the Union Oil company.

MARCHANTS ARE HOME FROM TRIP

Mrs. I. L. Marchant, Miss Mildred, Miss Lenora, and Donald Marchant have returned to their Tustin home after a month's vacation in the East and Middle West.

They drove via Zion and Bryce canyons as far as the Mississippi river, and spent many happy days visiting their former home at Danville, Iowa. Particularly enjoyable to them was a tour through Kansas and Nebraska. They found the plains and crops in beautiful condition and the weather was pleasantly mild except for their return drive, on which they visited Carlisle canyons.

IRVINE PARK PICNIC

Members of the Pro Bono sabath school class of United Presbyterian church will hold their annual picnic and social meeting at Irvine park Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock. A table for the class will be set by the tennis courts and members and friends of the group have been asked to bring their own table service.

RETURNS TO WORK

Miss Eleanor J. Redmond, 2321 Spurgeon street, has returned to her job in the state aid department of the Orange county welfare department after a three-weeks trip to Lake Louise and Banff in the Canadian Rockies.

Try This One

SPICED GOOSEBERRIES
Three quarts slightly under-ripe gooseberries, 4 pounds sugar, 2 cups elder vinegar, 1 tablespoon cinnamon, 2 teaspoons cloves, 2 teaspoons allspice.

Wash berries. Snip off the tiny prickly end and the bit of stem with a pair of small scissors, taking care not to cut or break the skin. Cover with sugar and let stand in a warm place for an hour. Bring slowly to the boiling point and boil half an hour. Add vinegar and spices and cook until thick. Pour into sterilized glasses and cover with paraffin.

Entertain Informally In Summer

By JUDITH WILSON

Warm weather always opens the season for informal entertaining. Women may drop in for a chat or a hand of bridge, friends may arrive unexpectedly for luncheon or supper, or your husband may leave his office early to have a round of golf with his cronies before dinner.

To make serving easier you can either serve buffet style or arrange the plates in the kitchen for the main course. Start the meal with a fruit cup, a tart sherbet or jellied bouillon if your main course is hot. If the menu consists mostly of cold foods, then serve a hot soup to start with, or finish the meal with a hot dessert and coffee. Hot cherry pie or fruit roll just out of the oven will make the plainest cold meal a sumptuous repast.

Here are recipes for some simple hot weather foods:

JELLIED BOUILLON

Heat 1 cup water to the boiling point, and pour it over the contents of 1 package prepared aspic gelatin. Add 1 1/4 cups tomato juice and set in the refrigerator to chill. Rub the bouillon cups in which the aspic is to be served with a crushed clove of garlic. Just before serving stir the jellied bouillon with a fork just enough to break it up. This makes a good starter for any meal.

DELIVERED EGGS IN ASPIC

Cut 6 hard-cooked eggs in halves and remove the yolks. Mash and blend with 4 tablespoons mayonnaise, salt, pepper and paprika to season. Add 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard and about a teaspoon sharp vinegar. Refill the egg whites and arrange 2 halves in each individual mold.

COUPLE FETED AT POT-LUCK IN ANAHEIM

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Price (Alma Crowell) who were married on July 3, were honored with a post-nuptial celebration in the form of a pot-luck supper given in Anaheim park by her former fellow employees of the tax collector's office.

A number of the guests enjoyed a swim in the plunge before the dinner. While the entire group was gathered about the picnic table, a table lamp for their new home was presented to the honor guests.

Included in the party were the employees and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman A. Boomer and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Marr and son, Mr. and Mrs. Rowan Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Fickens, Charles Robinson and daughter Barbara, and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Glibbank and three house guests from Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. O. F. Blattner, Miss Oriane Blattner, and Mrs. B. N. Brecke.

Others were Hazel Leonard, Jess Barrett, Lila B. O. E. and Mr. McDowell, Florence Rios, Alyce Hall, Eunice Wilson, Oma Hall, Edna Harkendorff, Helen Wiebe, Lester Smeltzer, and Ed Douglas.

PHILATHEA PARTY

Philathea class of the First Presbyterian church will enjoy its annual birthday party Thursday at the Hougham cottage, 207 Coral avenue, Balboa island. The committee will provide both meat and dessert, and members are to bring table service, sandwiches, and suits if they wish to go swimming.

Leg Ulcers From Poor Circulation

By C. N. CHRISMAN, M. D.
Varicose ulcers, most frequently seen as common leg ulcers, are the cause of much inefficiency and pain to many persons past middle life. Leg ulcers are caused by impaired circulation. Many result from varicose veins, but more are due to some obstruction of the return flow of blood from the feet causing the outer skin to die. This leaves a raw surface, either a small spot or one that may encircle the entire leg.

Leg ulcers being primarily due to impaired circulation in the skin and this comes from obstructed or varicose veins, small arterioles or the lymphatic vessels or all of them together—are extremely difficult to heal.

Often when healing does take place, there is a thin film of skin over the ulcer which is prone to break down on the slightest provocation and start the old trouble all over again. The raw surface very frequently becomes infected and spreads, presenting a still more difficult problem.

Many methods have been used in treating the various conditions. All methods have been successful in some cases and have failed in the next case. Some methods seem downright cruel. A favorite method has been to scrape off the proud flesh and cut away the calloused edges to restore circulation and promote healing. This is all right, if the work is done under an anesthetic but is extremely painful without it.

All kinds of salves, ointments, caustics and drugs have had their day. Rest in bed with elevation of the limb, binding with elastic bandages to aid the circulation by reducing the swelling, are advised. Adhesive tape applied tightly to the ulcer and surrounding tissue is often successful, but the pain suffered on removing the tape is quite extreme. Dissecting out the varicose veins and injecting certain drugs into the veins have both been helpful.

BARTHOLOMEWS FETE GUEST AT PARK PICNIC

The sister of Mrs. Robert Bartholomew of Tustin, Miss Gwyneth Cates, who is visiting the Bartholomews from her Chicago home, was guest of honor at an enjoyable pot-luck picnic at Anaheim park last evening.

Children in the group enjoyed a swim before the supper was served, and their elders enjoyed informal conversation during the evening. In the party were Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. Felton Browning, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Dixon Tubbs, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Plumb, Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Plumb, Mrs. Jessie Plumb, Mrs. Coy Swindle of Salinas, Mrs. Roy Browning, Miss Gertrude Hellis and Miss Joan Thiene.

MRS. AULT IS CLUB HOSTESS

Lambda club members were entertained at a pretty luncheon recently in the home of Mrs. J. Carroll Ault, 2436 Riverside drive. A formal Italian cloth, lovely crystal, and mammoth zinnias made an attractive setting for the guests.

Those enjoying the afternoon of sewing and chatting were Mrs. Armand Faccou, Mrs. Carl Lykke, Mrs. George Daws, Mrs. Warren Lampman, Mrs. Robert Baker, and the hostess.

PARTY GIVEN IN BALBOA CABIN

Mrs. Jennie Richardson was hostess today to members of her contract bridge club at a pot-luck lunch and afternoon bridge game in her Balboa Island cottage.

Members of the club who were guests of Mrs. Richardson yesterday were Mrs. Parke Roper, Mrs. Addie Collins, Mrs. P. E. Farnsworth, Mrs. C. V. Davis, Mrs. Roland Yeagle, Mrs. L. A. Colver, Mrs. M. A. Yarnell.

Of Interest To Women

Americans like to "go places." As the economic status of an American family improves, expenditures for transportation rise more rapidly than any other major item in the family budget, according to a study of consumer purchases being conducted by the United States bureau of labor statistics.

Only in Boston does a raise mean expenditure for higher education for the children rather than a new car, the study reveals. A raise in the lower-salaried workers group in New York City doesn't always mean a car, however, because traffic and parking problems are great, and other forms of transportation are so much cheaper.

Elsewhere, a raise for dad means a car for the family.

It takes a "thick skin" to hold a job, says P. F. Corby, a personnel manager in Chicago of one of the largest mercantile houses in the country.

A woman who wishes to hold her job must be open-minded and willing to accept criticism, says he.

"If a girl lets criticism put her in an emotional state where she'll brood over it, she is going to have a tough time. She may have a boss who will explode one minute and the next tell her she is doing a splendid job."

"If she is going down with his criticism and up with his praise, she won't maintain an even keel."

How Do You Rate As A Conversationalist?

Check Your Faults!
None of the Five Deadly Conversational Faults afflicts the talk of this happy group. What are the Five Faults? They're errors that are easy to correct. But if they're allowed to go on, what damage they can do! Here they are:

1. Boring detail. Do people really care about the day-to-day mileage on your last trip?
2. Tactless "kidding." It's not funny to say while dancing with clumsy Tom, "You're light on my feet, big boy!"
3. Preaching. Even if you know you're right, don't sprinkle your talk with "You ought to..."
4. Being "helpful." If John gropes for a word, wait until he finds it. Don't suggest one.
5. A harsh voice. Relax! Hard to have a soft, pleasing voice if you're tense and nervous.

When you've rid yourself of these handicaps, easy to learn how to interest and charm with your talk. Our 32-page booklet gives you the secrets of good conversation—what to say on all occasions. Send 10c for your copy of Secrets of Good Conversation to The Journal, Home Service, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

Feminine Headliners Of the Week

DEFERRED GREETING
To Tamara Yumashev of San Francisco the greatest accomplishment of the Soviet polar flight was the reunion it made possible with her brother, Andrei, whom she hadn't seen for 17 years. He was a co-pilot.

BUCKEYE'S BEST
Diminutive Sally Elson, 24-year-old Columbus, O., golfer, had little trouble "putting" her sturdier sisters to rout to win the Ohio women's state championship.

SPANIELS COME HIGH
Mrs. Elita Clark traded an old attic painting to a Chicago suburb art dealer for a Cocker Spaniel. Then the dealer discovered the painting was an old master. He'll share any profits.

Air Conditioning Comforts Listed

"The warm weather calls the attention of the lover of comfort to the subject of 'how to be comfortable,'" says Paul Carnes, Santa Ana dealer for Chrysler Air Conditioning products, 216 W. Third street.

"Air conditioning not only gives this comfort, but in addition reduces the danger line of infection, first by the tempered level of its heat which keeps the body warm and protects it from chilling. Second... and very important... by filtering and cleaning the air of dust. Dustfree air is sterile air, for bacteria cannot live without the organic matter and impurities which we commonly call dust. Further, if for any reason there is a concentration of bacteria the constantly moving stream of fresh air at once dispels it, and makes living condition safe for humanity."

Few Skins Are Really Normal

By JACQUELINE HUNT
Few women are blessed with a truly normal skin that has a velvety, fresh look, a delicate finish like the blush on the skin of a peach. Most skins do not measure up to this ideal. They may be too oily or too dry or they may be marred by ugly blemishes.

Nature has a clever plan for lubricating our skins, but as we live may interfere with the action of the tiny glands that pour out their oil to soften and protect the skin surface.

Nervous tension and insufficient outdoor exercise tends to retard the circulation and this in turn fails to nourish the glands properly so they cannot secrete enough oil to keep the skin soft and fine. Other times this sluggish circulation leads to clogged pores which result in excess oiliness.

The dry skin condition is most common, especially in winter and again in mid-summer when the air is hot and dry. Even when the skin is perfectly healthy, some of the natural lubrication and moisture are lost and the skin needs help to remain soft and smooth. Dieting is still another cause of dry skins.

When you have taken steps to correct any physical condition that might be to blame for your abnormal skin, take what local measures you can. You need lots of cream, penetrating cleansing creams, heavier, richer softening creams and tissue creams or muscle oils that are both softening and stimulating.

Use a good tonic or ice water after each cleansing and softening treatment to firm the tissue and close the pores. Use cream masks once a week until your skin condition has improved. Avoid strong astringents or stimulating creams, however, since they are too strong for you.

GIVES PRAISE TO NEW RANGE

"It's the kind of a range that you'll be proud to take your friends out in the kitchen and show... the new Hotpoint Chestfield electric range," says Bob Dunstan of Dunstan Electric company, Santa Ana representative of the Hotpoint products, 212 N. Broadway. "Its smart, modern lines, gleaming finish and host of attractive labor saving features create genuine pride and enduring satisfaction."

"This range will give you extra hours of freedom, economy, cleanliness, and perfection of results with every recipe," says Dunstan. "This range has the new flat Calrod metal sealed unit... which has brought new speed, economy of operation and cleanliness to miracle cookery. Also the thrift cooker is installed in the cooking top of this new range and will cook either small or large quantities of food at extremely low cost... costing no more to operate than your kitchen light."

REFRIGERATOR HAS NO MOTOR

"Thrifty women have made the gas refrigerator famous," says Guy Griggs, sales manager for the L. A. Dickey furniture company, of this city.

"Some of the finest homes in the country today have the Servel Electrolux refrigerator serving them successfully, economically and consistently year after year, without cost of upkeep or repairs."

"You can frequently save enough in operating cost alone to pay for a Servel Electrolux. The fuel itself, natural gas, costs little and new improvements on the 1937 models make this refrigerator require even less gas than ever before. Add to this the fact that a Servel Electrolux refrigerator lasts years longer because it has "no motor wear out."

Refrigeration is constant. This enables the owner to take advantage of special sales and quantity discounts at the markets and grocers, says Griggs.

LEFTOVER MEAT LOAF
To make a tasty dish for supper or luncheon cut leftover meat loaf into one-inch pieces and add it to cooked macaroni, rice, lima beans, potatoes or peas mixed with a cream sauce or leftover gravy.

HOLLYWOOD. — One of Joan Crawford's closest friends is Kasha LeSueur. Closest to Simone Simon is a tall and pretty girl named Lee Frederick. Joan Blondell and Ruth Pursey are inseparable, at the studio and socially.

it is any of your business. And Dot Ponedel probably knows more about Marlene Dietrich than anybody in Hollywood, except Marlene.

Kasha and Lee and Ruth and Fieldsie and Dot — all of them prove you don't have to be famous to be counted a friend of the famous.

Kasha is Joan Crawford's stand-in, and her ex-sister-in-law. When Kasha's marriage to Joan's brother Hal crashed, Kasha's friendship with Joan survived and flourished. And Kasha's little girl is Joan's favorite child.

Lee Frederick is a script clerk. She met Simone when the actress went to work in "Under Two Flags." Simone didn't finish the picture, but out of it came a lasting friendship with Lee. The story is that it started with a memorable fight. Simone was temperamental, and Lee didn't like temperamental. Lee told Simone off. Now Simone tells Lee everything.

Ruth Pursey is Joan Blondell's hairdresser. They met when Joan

CHILD STAR MAY QUIT CAREER

HOLLYWOOD. (P) — Freddie Bartholomew, at 13 "the poorest paid star in Hollywood," will quit his screen career unless his salary of $1100 a week is raised, his aunt threatened today.

"We have asked for $2500 a week, but it has been refused. I feel, therefore, there is little use in going on," Miss Mylicent Bartholomew said.

"Freddie cannot remain a child star forever. Unless we can come to terms with the studio, I feel that the best thing to do is to return to England, put Freddie back in school and forget the films forever. His education, in spite of everything we have been able to do, is suffering."

At the Theaters

Olsen and Johnson, rollicking duo of stage and radio, star in "County Gentlemen," opening today at the State theater along with "The Girl from Scotland Yard."

The comedy team plays stock promoters, with Lila Lee making a comeback in a pleasing role. International intrigue forms the background of "The Girl from Scotland Yard," starring Karen Morley and Robert Baldwin.

Starting today, the West Coast theater will present the dramatic story of China's teeming millions, their struggles and hardships in the screen version of Pearl S. Buck's epic novel, "The Good Earth."

Paul Muni and Luise Rainer are co-stars in the drama, which took four years of research and preparation before filming of the picture started. Prominent players in the large supporting cast include Walter Connolly, Tilly Losch, Charley Grapewin, Jessie Ralph and others.

Maltese Cat Has Nine Careers

WHITEHALL, Mont. (P) — Ralph Dickinson, forest supervisor, has documents to show that Monte Blue, his Maltese cat, has led 25 years of exciting life.

Born in Jerico, Mont., in April, 1912, Monte ran away from home for a winter, once was caught in a coyote trap, spent a winter in Florida, tried to swallow a fish hook, suffered a fractured tail, and has killed scores of mountain rats.

She is toothless now, but she still can whip Toughy, the Dickinson dog.

THE FOREIGN CAPITAL...

Through the fortunes of war, Vilna holds the unique distinction of being both the capital of a Polish province of the same name and the official capital of the republic of Lithuania.

When Poland and Lithuania emerged from the World war as separate nations, the Supreme Council of the Allies was called on to settle border disputes. This body tried to do fairly by awarding regions where the population was predominantly Polish to Poland and, where the reverse was true, to Lithuania. Vilna was pretty much in doubt as far as population went. It was held by Soviet Russia which was at war with Lithuania at the time, so the city's nationality went undetermined.

Lithuania made peace with Russia in 1920—after a Polish army won Vilna from the Russians. Russia recaptured it a while later and handed it over to Lithuania whereupon Polish troops took it from the Lithuanians. The latter move was made in violation of a League of Nations treaty wherein Poland had agreed to recognize Lithuania's ownership of Vilna. The situation has never been ironed out. Lithuania still claims Vilna as its official capital though Kaunas serves as the republic's provisional capital. Poland, meanwhile, hangs on to the city.

All Aboard For Prosperity

Santa Ana can rejoice with the rest of Orange county over the amazingly successful outcome of yesterday's water bond election.

The 10 to 1 vote is a stunning demonstration of the readiness of the voters to approve a good project when they realize its value.

It would not be stretching the imagination to say that the victory was practically unanimous, so far as the average voter is concerned.

For the small 10 per cent minority against the bonds is simply the one-tenth proportion of the public which votes "no" on general principles, and which would register a protest vote regardless of the issue at stake.

An especially pleasing thing about the outcome to us is the spanning big majority which Santa Ana's 23 precincts gave to the bonds.

The last flood plan election ran on the rocks in the county seat.

And campaign leaders this time were frankly dubious about the city's attitude.

Yesterday's results left no doubt about how Santa Ana stands, however.

Like the rest of the county, it wants flood control, water conservation, more jobs and prosperity.

It is in order here to vote thanks to the many citizens who did their part to see to it that the bonds were passed. Thousands of citizens went out of their way to vote and to get others to vote.

A hard-working committee, under the direction of A. J. McFadden, president of the state chamber of commerce, carried out a clean, intelligent campaign.

Individuals and groups who in past contests had opposed the program, swung around to the new proposition, put their shoulders to the cart and shoved with might and main.

Every newspaper in the county that we know of gave freely of its space for the cause.

It was an exhibition of real countywide cooperation on a real county project.

Dozens of times before the election, the value of the big program to the county was pointed out.

Its benefits to agriculture, business and labor were stressed.

There is no need now to go into that again.

It suffices to say that with the water program and the spending of $15,000,000 in this area in the next three years a sure thing, a new era of prosperity should dawn for Orange county.

China is preparing for war. Japan has already prepared. That makes a lot of difference.

Slap Down Their Ears

One of life's pests is the chronic horn-tooter, and we hasten to pass along this masterpiece of description from the Boston Globe:

He's the chap who calls on his girl in a car, halts it before her door, and proceeds, at intervals of 10 or 20 seconds, to bring his presence to her attention by a series of ear-splitting blasts which keep up till she's ready.

He's the cheerful, jovial soul who thinks, when his car is halted in line behind a couple of others at a street intersection, waiting for a change of lights, that the two ahead of him need to be urged to leap forward a couple of seconds before the green shows. So he emits long, soulful blasts of expedition for their benefit.

He's the lovable lad who enjoys a party, from which he returns with his friends at any hour between 12 midnight and 1:30 a. m., expressing his delight in living, as the returning revellers pass down the sleeping streets of the community, with abrupt and deafening squawks and screams, conjured from the horn as if it were a calliope.

He's the one who never mind! You know him! Everybody knows him. Many regret, alas, that distance or circumstances prevent closer acquaintance when they hear him. He badly needs lessons in good manners.

To this, The San Bernardino Sun adds:
In California tooting of an automobile horn for any other purpose than provided by the motor vehicle code is unlawful. But to attempt to enforce the law is apparently too much trouble. But we are hopeful the girl friends might at least tell the boy friends they would appreciate attentions not advertised by blasts from automobile horns.

There's a companion piece for the horn-tooter who we also nominate for suppression. He's the fellow who rockets along on a motorbike or in a jalope without a muffler.

The girls can't do anything about him, but maybe the long arm of the law can slap down his ears.

What a relief it would be if Hitler or Mussolini took a vacation—even just for two weeks.

'Take It Easy' in Summer

Although it announces itself a little more emphatically in other localities than Santa Ana, that regular mid-summer visitor, Heat, nevertheless exacts some toll from everyone, from coast to coast.

Besides minor unpleasantness, heat may cause serious illness and even death. Says Dr. John L. Rice, New York City health commissioner:

"The best protection against heat hazards is by keeping faith with three little watchwords—take it easy."

"Take it easy" means moderation in eating, exercising, sun-bathing and working. Raw, leafy vegetables, salads, fruits should be conspicuous on the menu. Meat should be eaten but not too much or too often. Drink cool water but not too cold. Dress lightly, take frequent baths.

In the last three decades, New York City has cut its yearly sunstroke case total from more than 700 to a mere 34, largely through education in "taking it easy." And that seems to make it good advice for anyone, even in Santa Ana.

Observation to a 1937 graduate: The world is all wet. Don't try to set it afire.

American Nazis Border on Ludicrous

By Westbrook Pegler

NEW YORK.—The recent activities of the American outposts of the Nazi regime are a reminder of that occasion a few months ago when Adolf Hitler's official newspapers gave warning that the Nazi government might take an unpleasant interest in the affairs of the race which wears its hat indoors, puts its feet upon the tables and spits chewing gum at the walls.

The American Nazis, naturalized and unnaturalized, have been conducting summer camps in the vicinity of New York in an attempt to fulfill the warning, but up to now the effect has been more ludicrous than unpleasant. The veterans' organizations which have taken alarm need not bother to grab their old muskets from the walls for the race which wears its hat indoors, puts its feet upon the tables and spits chewing gum at the walls will be more amused and enlightened than disturbed.

The old-world spectacle of men in masquerade uniforms doing the goose-step and hailing the reich as the greatest country in the world is not only light summer entertainment, but a tip-off on the character of those imported Nazis who take the American oath of allegiance but rate the United States second, or worse, in their loyalty.

GOOD AS BAD EXAMPLES

At last week's main demonstration one of the principal speakers said Italy and Germany were the two greatest countries in the world and the fact that nobody took exception to this appraisal would appear to place the United States in the show-hole at best. To be sure, American immigrants from Germany and Italy who rank this country no better than third can hardly have much loyalty left for the land of their adoption, but there are not many of them, and in case of need they could readily be rounded up from their membership rolls. It is the versatile force they hardly amount to a respectable nuisance, but as an example of Nazi manners and morals, they can do some good. The effect would be better if they would reproduce in their camps certain other attractions of a subversive nature, such as pagan rites and raids upon churches, concentrations of political prisoners and an election with a ballot having no place for a dissenting vote. These exhibits, along with a model of the Nazi censorship and a few mock executions by the courtly official in the full dress suit with the medieval axe would be sure to make a strong impression on the race which wears its hat indoors, puts its feet upon the tables and spits chewing gum at the walls.

WHY STAMP THEM OUT?

Of course, there will be some members of that race including veterans, who will be impatient and somewhat indignant, at the rudeness of aliens, naturalized and otherwise, who abuse the hospitality of a free country to flout that freedom and extol the rule of the gun.

In the land from which the American Nazis come no body of foreigners would be allowed to hold public demonstrations in favor of democracy, but to suppress the Nazis here would be to adopt the most loathsome trait of their own character. Probably they wouldn't like even that, for although they are trying to convert us, they are very inconsistent in a childish and petulant way and hard to please.

DOES WASHINGTON KNOW?
It would be interesting to know, however, just how intimately these camps are connected with the Nazi embassy in Washington. They do follow the theat in Der Fuehrer's official newspapers, and, of course, the embassy would have an interest in the reprisal promised in so many words a few months back. Probably our state department does know, because Mr. George Messersmith, once stationed in Berlin and more recently ambassador in Vienna, is now serving in Washington and Mr. Messersmith is one of our best authorities on Nazi methods. He was very firm in all his dealings with them when he was in Berlin and was known as a member of that school of diplomacy, which in dealing with any Nazi considers it a serious error to back up.

The Nazi camps, though, are no danger to the Democratic principles or the freedom of America. On the contrary they constitute convincing chambers of horrors, which no American can observe without prizing his freedom more.

SOME JOB

Two sailors were taking their first ride in a Pullman and they both retired at the same time. The one in the upper berth, hearing a commotion below, leaned out between the curtains and whispered: "Buddy, are you all right down there?"

"Well, I got my duds off, but how do you get into this little hammock?"

JULY 28, 1912
YOSEMITE.—Camp Curry, the largest resort in the Yosemite valley, was partially destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon, the fire originating in the laundry drying fire in the dining room, in which several hundred guests were eating luncheon. A clump of burning pines spread blazing needles among the tents, 60 or 70 of which were destroyed, in many cases the occupants losing their effects.

W. L. Thompson went to San Francisco on the Southern Pacific today. He will be away from Santa Ana at least 10 days on business.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Adams went to Huntington Beach in their auto this morning. They will go from the beach to Los Angeles and return Saturday.

J. L. Smith and H. G. Baker went to Los Angeles this morning on a business trip, and will return late tonight.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—To those who sat in the secret senate judiciary committee meeting which finally buried the supreme court bill, it was one of the most dramatic sessions ever held on Capitol hill.

Republican members of the committee looked on with ill-concealed delight while Democrats, completely unabashed, openly pleaded for party harmony.

Vice President Garner, just arrived from the Robinson funeral, was the chief pleader. He told his Democratic colleagues, in effect, that it was a question of the party or the bill, and let's stand by the party.

"I want to do anything that can be done to help the country," Garner told the judiciary committee, "but I also want to save the Democratic party from a bust-up. That isn't going to do any of us Democrats any good. The President is licked and he knows it. But don't let's bloody his nose."

This remark was directed at Senator Ed Burke. The irreconcilable Nebraska, who three years ago was elected as a "100 per cent" Roosevelt supporter, wanted the opposition to fight to the last ditch against any kind of a judicial measure, even one relating to lower court procedure.

"We can work out a bill that will satisfy everybody," continued the vice president. "I told Senator Wheeler to 'write his own ticket.' I meant that; the administration means it. Let's get together and stop all this fighting. We want to be brothers once more."

"What about political reprisals?" demanded Senator Pat McCarran, who must run for reelection next year and is under hot fire in Nevada.

"There will be none of that so far as my influence can prevent it," Garner replied. "We don't want war; we want peace."

"I am sure we Republicans will be glad to help you, Mr. Vice President," observed Senator Borah with a wide grin.

CAUSE OF FEAR
Two reasons underlie the apprehension of the anti-court bill crowd:

1. Fear that the supreme court next term may go Old Guard again and throw out important liberal measures.

2. The bitter attacks of the anti-courts, the President may encourage rivals to take the field against them, using these personal slams as an issue. Some of the anti-courts now wish privately that they hadn't been so vituperative against Roosevelt. For while he took a terrific trouncing, the anti-courts' personal popularity is little impaired.

ALPHONSE AND GASTON
Wheeler and Burke outlined each other in exchanging congratulations on their victory. As they emerged from the judiciary committee meeting, Wheeler announced to the throng of newsmen:

"Boys, all the credit belongs to Burke. He did a great job. He is a great Democrat. It is his victory."

"Not at all," protested Burke, grinning broadly. "Burt Wheeler is the man who should get the credit. He was our leader. It's his victory."

"Just a minute," broke in a reporter, "which of you is Alphonse and which Gaston?"

ECONOMIZERS
None have been more clamorous in their demands for government economy than Senators Josiah Bailey of North Carolina and Royal S. Copeland of New York. In season and out of season they have dinned on this refrain.

But after the President vetoed the low interest rates on federal land bank mortgages, on the ground that it was a $40,000,000 raid on the treasury, among those who voted to override his veto were the two great economy shouters—Bailey and Copeland.

GENTLEMEN FROM TEXAS
Martin Dies of Texas, president of the Demagogues club which recently initiated Roosevelt at Jefferson island, spends a good part of his time in the Democratic cloak-room, his long lanky frame stretched out on a black leather couch.

The other day, pulling himself up on his elbow with great effort, Dies drawled to his assembled Democratic colleagues:

"I sure do feel sorry for these supreme court fellows. Here they were, six of them, who all went down to the White House and told the President the bill was going to pass and he said they could all be appointed to the court."

"Then they went down and had themselves naturalized, and they even got their names changed so as to have good American names, and now look what's happened. I sure do feel sorry for them."

And the Gentlemen from Texas relapsed on his couch.

MERRY-GO-ROUND
Apparently not satisfied with the New Deal's army of publicity experts, Thad H. Brown, federal communications commissioner, has engaged as his own publicity agent Thomas R. Shipp, Inc., White House gardeners. William Reeves says that a re-landscaping of the south grounds of the White House is in prospect. The formal rose garden and the bed of hardy perennials are too severe to suit the President. One of the ablest officials in the national relations board is a young Scotchman, Malcolm Ross, who looks and talks like actor Leslie Howard. WPA researchers, on the federal writers project, have found that an "anti-horse thief society" still exists in Connecticut, remnant of an early group of vigilantes. Headline on a department of commerce release: "South Africa Demands High Grade Drugs and Toilettes."

(Copyright, 1937)

Bright Moments
At a tea given by Queen Victoria, the orchestra was playing Rubinstein's "Melody in F." The queen had been talking, and had not heard the beginning of the number. Finally she caught a few bars, and turning to a lady seated beside her, said: "What number is that?" "Oh," replied the lady, "it is a drinking song by Rubinstein." The queen very quickly replied: "Oh, you could not drink a cup of tea to that!"

REMARKABLE REMARKS
It was playing the best I know how, but I don't think any man who ever played, at Wimbledon could beat your Americans today. —Gottfried Von Cramm, German tennis ace, after losing to Don Budge at Wimbledon, England.

The failures of the Christian churches at age are due to the utterly superficial character of the thinking and living of so many of their members.—Dr. Clyde E. Wildman, president, DePauw university.

SCIENCE NEWS
Something new in teaching music—a "soundless" organ—has been invented by a Chicago, Ill., man. As many as five organs sound simultaneously in the same room, and none will be able to hear the other. Each hears only the strains of his own instrument through earphones. The teacher can tune in on the music from each instrument, and through a microphone connected with the students' headphones, give individual instruction when it is necessary.

One Man's Opinion

FREE FISHING BY A REPORTER

Smart people, these national park rangers. Park rangers know that most Americans like to fish. They also know that their jobs as custodians of some of the fine scenic bits within the national domain are for the benefit of the people only in Pa and Ma Public and all the kids continue to swarm to the national parks in ever greater droves year after year.

In other words, the park ranger service is a going concern, with a lively interest in its own future and expansion, and an unquestioned love for and faith in the great natural monuments that are in its charge.

Let's take Yellowstone park, for example. It wasn't so many years ago that the person who had seen its wonders first-hand was a rarity, one to be envied and one to be invited around to tell the interesting story of those wonders.

The automobile has done a great deal to change that condition, of course. But don't give all credit to the auto. Those zippy, obliging, learned, alert and carefully-tailored park rangers have had a lot to do with the change.

A friend just back from Yellowstone, one who likes to catch fish and likes to eat them, tells me that he caught more fish and ate more fish in Yellowstone park this year than he has caught or eaten for years—and no fishing license fee charged.

"The rangers stock beautiful Yellowstone lake and gorgeous Yellowstone river, and invite the world to come and fish to its heart's content. They put a limit on the number of fish one person may catch in a day, but nobody kicks at that because the fishing is free."

"People come from all over America and bring their fishing tackle with them. Many bring high boots and many bring boats of all kinds and descriptions."

The river at the outlet of the lake is sometimes lined with fishermen almost shoulder to shoulder, and that part of the lake literally swarms with boats.

"Our first day there, some lucky fishermen offered us part of their catch. Later we gave away part of ours."

Any community with a real scenic wonder spot can attract thousands with first-class free fishing, says my friend.

What Other Editors Say

THE RELIEF PROBLEM AND THE STATES

(Seattle Star)

Work-relief costs for the 1937-1938 fiscal year will be shouldered in toto by the federal government. The recent senate debate finally settled the question whether state and local communities would be required to put up a sizable share of the billion and a half allotted for work-relief during the coming year.

Because of the insistence of President Roosevelt, local governments will not be required to put up either the 40 per cent of the costs of future WPA activity suggested by Senator Dryden nor the 25 per cent suggested by Senator Robinson.

This decision was certainly pleasing to local governments throughout the nation, many of which are still financially hard pressed and some of which are only a step and a half away from bankruptcy.

There is very little disagreement anywhere with the administration view that, if anybody carries it, the national government must go on carrying the work-relief load for the present.

And yet the national government, while bearing three-fourths of the total relief load, actually receives less than one-third of all government revenues.

Taking the figures for 1934, the last year for which they are available, we find that of the total tax receipts of $8,500,000,000 collected by combined federal, state and local governments, the national government received only a little more than $2,500,000,000, while state governments took in approximately $1,750,000,000 and local governments slightly more than $4,000,000,000.

It is safe to assume that tax collected by the state and local divisions are roughly about the same now as in 1934.

On the face of these figures, does it look as though state and local governments are carrying their full share of the load?

Of course it must be borne in mind that a heavy proportion of state and local funds are for purposes which, while not to be classed as relief, would result in greatly increased unemployment and a much bigger relief problem if the money were not so spent. Local governments also have heavy commitments which must be met.

Despite all this, there is something decidedly lopsided about the situation.

REMARKABLE REMARKS
It was playing the best I know how, but I don't think any man who ever played, at Wimbledon could beat your Americans today. —Gottfried Von Cramm, German tennis ace, after losing to Don Budge at Wimbledon, England.

The failures of the Christian churches at age are due to the utterly superficial character of the thinking and living of so many of their members.—Dr. Clyde E. Wildman, president, DePauw university.

Something new in teaching music—a "soundless" organ—has been invented by a Chicago, Ill., man. As many as five organs sound simultaneously in the same room, and none will be able to hear the other. Each hears only the strains of his own instrument through earphones. The teacher can tune in on the music from each instrument, and through a microphone connected with the students' headphones, give individual instruction when it is necessary.

NEW YORK.—Artists take residential root more than almost any other class. Seldom do they move. Joseph Cummings Chase has had his studio on East Twenty-third street more than 20 years. Dean Cornwell clings to the Gainsborough overlooking the vast breathing space of Central Park.

Rube Goldberg is a confirmed West Sider. Since he came to New York 20 odd years ago he has made several changes but never moved eight blocks away. Finally he bought a private residence on West Seventy-fifth street, a stone's toss from the Schwab mansion where he is parked for life.

Gordon Grant, the marine painter, has been 20 years on East Sixty-sixth street with a pent studio. Charlie Falls, the artist with bangs, is faithful to Twenty-third street near Fifth avenue. Lejaren Hiller, photographer, is nearby on West Twenty-eighth street. Denys Wortman, cartoonist is loyal to Twelfth and many types in Washington square.

But the real artistic loyalists live in the block on Sixty-seventh street running off Central Park West. Among the old settlers are Howard Chandler Christy, F. Graham Cookes, Arthur William Brown, Bob Brinkerhoff, W. T. Benda, Wallace Morgan, Tony Sarg, Walter Enright, C. D. Williams and others.

Lowell Thomas has become the Wonder Man, physically, of the writing trade aside from his admiration he elicits for enormous and varied output. He broadcasts, fills scores of lecture engagements, presides over banquets, and once a week stays up all night registering his descriptions for the news. He writes and writes many magazine articles, he always has a half dozen books on the fire. Yet somehow he looks fresh, rested and unharmed. He has all of his thick, brown hair and could pose for an ad for hair tonic, a dentifrice or complexion cream. In fact, he's had offers.

Among the many inconspicuous eating places—wells with a select clientele—is Chris Cella's in the East 40's. Without pretense, decoration or menus. The waiters merely bubble with enthusiasm, dishes of the day. The patrons are regulars who do not mind leisurely service. The trouble with such restaurants is that eventually they are "discovered," crowds rush in and charm flies out the window. Chris Cella's is a request for lower East Side where Mamma or Papa does the cooking, serves, acts as cashier and for good measure tosses in a full throated "Sol Mia" with all stops out.

One reason for New York's apparent coldness toward the stranger is its suspicion—bred by many years of having been victimized by petty shakedownmen. In almost any medium sized city or town, for instance, a pull at the back of a neck, a request for a stranger to use the phone would not cause alarm. But in New York such a request might be answered with a door slam in the face. Too many who have acquiesced have found themselves in a dark closet with valuables missing. Along the street, too, they have found that what might be a simple query elsewhere is here a demand for a bribe. The seasoned New Yorker asks questions only of policemen or uniformed attendants. He has found this the safe method and invariably the most accurate.

I am a push over for the ice cream blobs on a stick and sundry indigestibles hawked by white uniformed lads on Riverside drive and along the countryside. For a time I would glance about before purchasing a trifle ashamed of sudden juvenility. But not anymore. I find it an adult weakness quite general. The sellers say most of the patrons are men past 40 and biggest sales are after dark when, one presumes, nobody is looking. And one summer evening I saw a figure resembling Charles M. Schwab emerge from the great mansion across the street to a white wagon with a banjo torch and return nibbling at an ice lollipop. Al Smith is also a lollipopper.

Resting on a park bench after a walk with the dog the other afternoon I felt something land on my shoulder. It was a friendly squirrel. I shrieked something that sounded like "Scat a Mighty squattum!" and walked of stiff legged all the way home. Somehow the knee joints simply would not work.
